Rail Board Chief Launches Bitter Attack on Richardson Plans

SEAVEY DECLARES LOSS IS CERTAIN

Administration Forces Are Ready for Counter-Drive On Official

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 27.—Authorizing the state railroad commission to investigate the petroleum industry in California with a view toward rate regulation and production control, Assemblyman Hisinger, Selma, introduced a resolution in the lower house of the legislature today. It sets forth that inasmuch as there are claims of monopoly to curtail petroleum production in the state, and reports of sales of adulterated products, the railroad commission should be authorized to conduct the probe and recommend laws to regulate the industry.

200 PER CENT AMERICANS.—The reports of the organization of Italian fascists in America, for Italian purposes, are probably unfounded. But if it were a question of American fascists for American purposes, it would be easy to find them.

They constitute the 200 per cent Americans of the various leagues, whose purpose is to impose compulsory uniformity.

They are the constitution agitators, who want every American school child taught that mythical section of the Constitution which says that capitalist industry and the open shop are sacred.

They are the better America Federation.

They are the "American plan" boycotters of the Chamber of Commerce. They are the propagandists who have made the word "Americanization" hated among its prospective victims. They are, in fact, all who see red whenever a modern economic idea is attacked. They are our parlor fascists.

PAPER DIGNITY.—French statesmen object to the disarmament treaty because it places France's ratio of heavy ships less than that of once was. To be sure, the ships still authorized to France are more than she can build, or desires to build. So it is a pure question of paper dignity. But these are precisely the questions on which nations starve their peoples and murder their neighbors. France was once, in numbers, resources, power and prestige, the greatest nation in Europe. Therefore, like the deposed Emperor of China who, deprived of all power must still receive the traditional number of bows from his subjects, France is under arrest again in San Francisco, according to telegrams received by the local prohibition enforcement office.

Miller was released on $10,000 cash bail, the condition being that he remain in the jurisdiction of the federal court here. He was arrested as he was about to board a boat for Vancouver, it was reported. The charge is that he violated the terms of his release on bail.

'HIGHER UPS' FACE BRIBE CASE ARREST

Grand Jurors Probing Governor's Trial Scandal Asked for Two New Indictments.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., March 27.—Grand jurors investigating reported attempts to bribe the jury which acquitted Governor Small were asked to vote two new indictments today.

Late Monday, after hearing testimony of six witnesses, the grand jury voted indictments against Eddie Courtney and Eddie Kaufman, two Chicago gangsters. Courtney and Kaufman are alleged to have done the actual fixing.

The indictments asked today were reported to hit at the "higher ups"—the men who are alleged to have paid Courtney and Kaufman.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 27.—Improvements in the condition of President Harding is observed each day of his Florida vacation trip.

When Harding left Washington his face was lined with little wrinkles, caused by the strain of official duties and the strenuous activities in the closing days of a none too sympathetic congress.

Up to this week the president had continued with only eighteen holes, but yesterday he doubled his play of exercise and now will play thirty-six holes whenever possible.

Harding retired early last night, refusing to meet several Republican politicians who called to see him. They were informed that the president was too tired.

WORK ON NEW SIX-STORY TO BEGIN

Begin Monday to Demolish Structures to Make Way for First National

Next Monday will see the beginning of work on the new six-story, fireproof building that the First National bank is to erect on the southwest corner of Fourth and Main streets, A. J. Crookshank, president of the bank, announced today.

Tenants in the building now standing on the site were notified today to vacate by Saturday night of this week.

E. C. English, Los Angeles, the contractor who erected St. Ann's Inn, has been awarded the contract. According to Crookshank, English will be here Monday to begin organization of his plans to raise the present structures.

It is possible that actual raising will not begin Monday, but preparations will be made to get this part of the contract under way at the earliest possible moment.

Demolition work will start on the buildings west of the Farmers and Merchants Savings bank, the savings department of the First National. The latter department will be moved temporarily to 213 West Fourth street.

Construction of the new building has been delayed in a measure by uncertainty as to the necessary steel being available when needed. It is understood the contractor has now arranged this matter in such a way as to warrant undertaking the actual building program at once.

It is expected that the building will be completed in time for the First National to transfer its operations to its new home by January 1, 1934.

King George's Farm Hands Join In Big British Strike

LONDON, March 27.—More than 154,000 farm hands are now on strike in Norfolk county, according to today's tabulations.

The strike, a protest against wage cuts, has seriously curtailed farm production and great alarm is felt over a possible crop shortage.

The strikers, it is understood, declined to make any exception of the estate of King George, located at Sandringham, and walked out there just as in other places of lesser magnitude.

This may result in the royal family being without the usual milk supply from Sandringham and the season's crop may be greatly delayed if not lost.

HOLDS BANKS HELP SUGAR SPECULATORS

Illinois Solon Demands Reserve Board Force Financial Houses to Withdraw Support

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Charging that the federal reserve board, by financing speculators, is responsible for increased sugar prices, Representative King of Illinois, a member of the house banking and currency committee, today demanded that the board force banks to quit aiding speculators.

"If the federal reserve board refused to re-discount further notes and acceptances based on sugar transactions and ordered banks not to aid in financing sugar speculation, the price of sugar would drop at once," King said.

GREAT THROGS PASS BIER OF BERNHARDT

(By United Press Leased Wire)
PARIS, March 27.—Those who loved Sarah Bernhardt in life were admitted to see her in repose of death this afternoon.

At 2 o'clock the doors of the actress' house were thrown open and crowds moved up candlelighted stairways to the darkened death chamber.

The "divine Sarah," might have been acting once more the death scene from "Camille," so still and peaceful she lay. A crucifix surmounted white lace bed, which was heaped high with white lilies, roses and lilacs.

Bernhardt's white hair was undone and lay across the coverlet.

A brilliant spot of carmine on her breast was the ribbon and cross of the Legion of Honor, highest decoration within the power of France to bestow.

Women burst into tears at the sight of the greatest of French women lying dead; some filled the death chamber with M. Harcourt, president of the Literary Society, and old friend of Bernhardt's, stood at the foot of the bed, struggling to control his emotions.

Bernhardt's last wishes regarding the funeral will be carried out as far as possible. It is feared the rosewood coffin she had in the house for thirty years, prepared for her death, has deteriorated until it is no longer serviceable.

Simple Funeral Service.
The funeral will be extremely simple. There will be no orations, but many flowers, as the tragedienne specified. The funeral probably will be held Thursday.

Just before her death Bernhardt asked that her personal belongings, souvenirs, photos, statues and so forth, be distributed among her friends.

Hundreds of cablegrams and messages of condolence poured into the residence today. Great banks of white lilies, the flower she most loved—decorated the walls of the home. Mourners passed into the house to sign the register of friends, which she had always kept.

The first American to sign was Arthur Winsworth, followed by his wife, of Grand Rapids, Mich. James K. Hackett, the actor, also called.

CALL EXPERT TO TESTIFY ON WRITING

Attorneys Confident As Army Captain Faces Trial

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 27.—Dr. L. L. Jacobs, charged with the murder of Fritz Mann, doesn't want women on the jury that will decide his fate. At noon only three women remained in the jury box and the defense was prepared to oust them on peremptory challenges if Dr. Jacobs so requested, which it seemed evident he would.

The prosecution, apparently satisfied, is saving its challenges to be exercised, if necessary, on talesmen called to the box to replace women excused by the defense.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SAN DIEGO, March 27.—The jury for the trial of Dr. L. L. Jacobs, Camp Kearney army health service captain, on the charge of murdering Fritz Mann, dancer, will probably be completed by tonight.

With more than twenty witnesses on his list, District Attorney Chester C. Kempley expects to begin the state's case sometime tomorrow.

In the questioning of prospective jurors, both sides have given hints of the cases they have prepared.

Experts to Testify.
Kempley's questions today indicated much stress will be put by the state on the testimony of a handwriting expert. This expert, it is understood, will declare the handwriting on a Blue Sea cottage register at La Jolla, placed there by a man who accompanied Fritz Mann the evening of her death, is similar to that of Jacobs.

The jurors were also sounded as to their attitudes toward circumstantial evidence.

The defense attorneys, James K. Schenck of Los Angeles, James K. Adham and C. K. Fitzgerald, have indicated by their questions that if the state succeeds in proving Fritz's death was a murder, they will attempt to shift the blame to someone else other than Dr. Jacobs.

In the prosecution's list of witnesses, given out yesterday, are several names not hitherto connected with the case.

District Attorney Kempley has declined to reveal any of the evidence which will be adduced through these witnesses. This has deepened the impression that the state is holding back until the proper time, important evidence which may strengthen the case against the young doctor.

It is generally admitted in local legal circles that the prosecution is additional to the circumstances already made public is brought out by the prosecution, the case against the doctor will not be a strong one. As far as is publicly known, the only evidence to connect him with the alleged murder or the death of the girl is purely circumstantial.

In addition to twenty four witnesses named by the grand jury in returning the indictment against Jacobs, Kempley may call six or eight more witnesses obtained by his office in its investigation of the case, it is said.

DISTRICT MEETING LURES ROTARIANS

Santa Ana Rotarians this week are making reservations and registrations for the district Rotary convention to be held at Pasadena April 5-7. At the club meeting at St. Ann's Inn here at noon today, J. C. Hayden, president of the club, said that it is expected that every member of the Santa Ana club will attend the convention.

F. H. Yost, football coach at Ann Arbor, was unable to fulfill an engagement to appear before the Rotary club here today. He telegraphed that his plans were changed and he was leaving at once for the East.

Entertainment features included excellent vocal solos by Mrs. Marie Goodson, of Fullerton, and songs and stories by Joe Dunning, of New York, an entertainer introduced by Ed Yost, of Yost's theater.

Soviet Grants Stay Of Execution To Condemned Priest

MOSCOW, March 27.—A stay of execution temporarily has been ordered by the All-Russian executive committee in the case of Archbishop Zepiak, head of the Roman Catholic church in Russia, condemned to die for opposing the soviet government.

Five priests were sentenced to ten years imprisonment, eight to three years, and one prisoner, a choir boy, was acquitted. Two were paroled. All sentences were held in abeyance and it is considered likely they will not be executed.

The churchmen were charged with opposing the Soviet requisitioning of sacred property in churches, as well as with "counter revolutionism."

LONDON, March 27.—A new warning to Germany was issued today by the French military commander at Dusseldorf, according to dispatches received here.

BERLIN, March 27.—Germany will continue her policy of passive resistance to the French occupation program, the Reichstag foreign affairs committee decided today.

The committee voted against a capitulation policy.

Herr Rosenberg proposed that the committee accept the commission plan proposed by Secretary of State Hughes.

EDITOR'S WIFE BLOCKS SALE OF PAPER

Although unofficial reports told of the sale recently of the Orange County Plain Dealer at Anaheim, Superior Judge R. Y. Williams today enjoined the publisher, Rola W. Ernest, from selling it until some arrangement shall have been made for the payment of alimony.

Mrs. Ernest's petition for an injunction was the most recent step in the divorce case of the family. She had sued for separate maintenance, and in her injunction suit had declared that Ernest planned to sell the Plain Dealer and other property, and dispose of the money, so as to prevent her from securing alimony.

The restraining order forbade Ernest from selling the newspaper, his two automobiles, any securities or real estate, until the alimony matter shall have been adjusted. Hearing on an order to show cause why alimony should not be paid was set for April 6 before Judge Williams.

Trouble in the Ernest family started when Mrs. Ernest was arrested for battery on a complaint sworn to by her husband. As soon as she was acquitted, Ernest secured a felony warrant against his son, Ward Ernest, and had him arrested. The younger Ernest was freed, after which Mrs. Ernest brought the alimony suit, making disclosures regarding an alleged pact whereby she divorced her former husband for Ernest.

According to announcement in the Plain Dealer, Paul V. Hester, editor, has become owner of the paper, but it was believed that the transaction had not been completed and that the restraining order would be effective.

PREHISTORIC RACE FOUND IN MISSOURI

NOEL, Mo., March 27.—Excavations which have revealed many evidences of the existence of a prehistoric race in this region have been nearly completed, Raymond Harrington, director of the party of archeologists, announced.

The party represents the museum of the American Indian. Excavation of all overhanging cliffs has been carried on for weeks.

The body of an Indian unearthed recently under Bone Break bluff, is only one of the evidences of the vanished race which archeologists have discovered in the vicinity.

WIDE AREA SWEEP BY FLAMES

Most Disastrous Blaze In S. A. Hills In Years So Far Uncurbed

RUSH VOLUNTEERS TO AID IN BIG BATTLE

Head of Verdugo Canyon Menaced as Conflagration Rages

Flames, fanned by a north wind, have swept the heads of Trabuco and Bell canyons, and, according to meager reports received here, are eating their way toward the head of Verdugo canyon.

The fire is burning in a rough, brushy section, where fire fighting is extremely difficult. Tremendous damage is being done to the watershed of the Trabuco, and it is likely that a large portion of the upper part of the beautiful canyon has been burned over.

A fight is being made to prevent the flames from reaching the oak-covered sections of the canyon around the forks of the canyon.

No resorts are in the path of the flames. Should the flames travel far enough to the south, the Carrizo ranch on the Verdugo ridge would be endangered.

Much of the area in which the fire is raging is almost inaccessible and almost unvisited.

The fire started yesterday on Horsefield trail, which runs out of the head of the Trabuco over the ridge toward Corona. A crew of forest service men has been at work on this trail, and, according to word received by George Harris, of Aliso Canyon, assistant county fire warden, the fire started from the operations of the trail crew, whether from its camp or from brush burning could not be learned.

Flames Travel Southward
The flames so far seem to have covered an area well above the portion of Trabuco ordinarily visited by motorists and outing parties. County Treasurer J. C. Joplin, who returned from Bell canyon this morning, said that apparently the fire has swept the upper brush-covered reaches of the Trabuco and Bell canyons, and is being driven southward.

A vaquero who came into San Juan hot springs from a point of vantage on a ridge reported that the fire is still four miles from the San Juan hot springs canyon. Joplin estimated that it is six miles from San Juan hot springs.

Another report received here was to the effect that the fire seemed to have burned most extensively on the top of the ridge so that the north wind is driving it along the ridge in such a way that the San Juan hot springs canyon would be missed entirely but that the flames would likely be taken into the Verdugo ridges unless the north wind dies down.

A heavy smoke cloud over San Juan hot springs has hidden the sun. No uneasiness is felt at the hot springs, as yet.

Yesterday afternoon, Harris went into the situation. He returned to a telephone and sent out a call for help. A truck load of men was sent in from Santa Ana. Ranchers and hired help from the Trabuco and El Toro sections responded.

The fire fighting is being directed from the ranger camp at the forks of the Trabuco. No men have been sent in by way of San Juan hot springs. Another truck load left Victor Walker's store at 7:30 o'clock this morning for the Trabuco.

The fire is the worst that has occurred in the Santa Ana mountains in many years. About fourteen years ago fire that started from a campfire in the forks of the Trabuco swept Holy Jim canyon, a branch of the Trabuco reaching up to the south side of Santiago peak. This Holy Jim fire covered an area far less than the fire now raging has already covered, it was estimated today.

Old Area Is Burned
It is believed that some of the area covered in the Holy Jim fire has again been burned over in this fire.

The damage that is being done cannot be calculated. The ruins for the next two or three years are likely to rush down off the upper ridges of the Trabuco and Bell and bring torrents, since the brush that holds back the water will be gone.

A few groups of pine are menaced. If, indeed, they have not already been burned out.

ROADS DAMAGE CASE ARRESTS COUNTY AIM

Taking stern measures in the battle of the county against Huntington Beach oil companies, Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley today prepared criminal complaints against Van B. Foster and four other officials of an oil company, on charges of having allowed water and oil and sand to seep from their property upon Garfield street, near Huntington Beach.

The criminal actions came as a surprise. Several injunctions have been obtained as the result of many civil suits against oil companies with property abutting Garfield street, but up to today no criminal charges had been brought. "The company of which these men are officials, has come into possession of this property since the injunctions were secured," Mozley said. "We have brought these complaints in an effort to bring them up short before any more damage is done. They will be brought into court, and if they are found guilty, they will be given sentences, to be suspended during their good behavior."

In the civil actions, the county sought restraining orders and $5,000 damages in each instance. J. I. McBride, county engineer, was complaining witness in the criminal action.

INYO FARM BUREAU HOGS TOP MARKET

A carload of hogs shipped to the Los Angeles Union Stockyards last week by the Inyo County Farm Bureau from Bishop, Calif., topped the market, selling at $9.00. The shipment was accompanied by two of the big boosters from the Owens Valley, Thos. Williams and A. B. Wheelton. Mr. Williams also had a load of cattle on the market which sold at satisfactory prices.

REGULATIONS DRAWN UP TO BEING ABOUT FEWER DUST BLASTS

The work done by the United States department of agriculture in the study and control of dust explosions in manufacturing plants, grain elevators, and threshing machines, and of fires in cotton gins, has stimulated many organizations to draw up regulations for reducing fire and explosion risks.

Recently the committee on dust explosion hazards of the National Fire Protection association of which D. J. Price of the bureau of chemistry is chairman, has drawn up tentative regulations for the installation and use of safer grinding and pulverizing systems for sugar refineries, regulations for the installation of pulverized-fuel systems, and regulations for the prevention of dust explosions in grain elevators. The regulations applying to pulverized fuel have been drawn up with the co-operation of the Bureau of Mines.

Copies of these proposed regulations have been sent out by the committee to the organizations interested and at the annual meeting of the National Fire Protection association in Chicago, May 8, they will be discussed with a view to their adoption. It is anticipated that the adoption of such regulations will do much to reduce the losses from dust explosions. In the course of time similar regulations will be prepared for use of other industries. At the present time the committee is engaged in drawing up tentative regulations for reducing the hazard in flour and feed mills, starch factories, and in cocoa, spice, and coffee grinding plants.

Investigations by the United States department of agriculture indicate that practically any kind of dust that can be burned will explode if mixed in the proper proportion with air and ignited.

MANKATO, Minn., March 27.—Judge W. L. Comstock of Mankato, members of the bench of the Sixth Minnesota judicial district, mentioned in press dispatches as being a candidate for governor of Minnesota at the next election, has issued a statement to the effect that he had "not authorized any such announcement."

COATS; THEY'RE CAPESSPRING COATS ARE NOT

The most popular spring coats aren't coats; they're capes. Or, if not really capes, they're made loose and wrappy, to look like them. Almost the only exceptions are the heavy sports coats of camel's hair or wool plaid. Materials are brytons, velour, ormondale, bolivia and veldine, almost like last season.

Colors vary from very light to very dark, with tans in the lead; next grays, browns and blues. Dress wraps frequently are trimmed with ornamental clasps or buckles, fastening on the side. Belts are not seen on capes, wrappy coats or many sports coats, but are found on most dress coats of conservative lines.

Liberty Bond Missing.

Identification of this man, it is believed, may lead to the gang which plotted to "shake down" J. K. Mitchell, Philadelphia millionaire, and choloformed Miss King when she refused to act as the bait.

A search has been instituted for a jade bracelet and a $1,000 Liberty bond which Mitchell is said to have given Miss King the night she was murdered. These were not found in the apartment by police and it is believed the bond may be traced through its number. Discovery of these facts strengthens a robbery theory, some investigators believe.

ARCH BEACH HOUSES PERILED IN FIRE

Owners of houses at Arch Beach heaved sighs of relief today, as a hill fire, said to have started from spontaneous combustion at the derick of the Laguna Beach Oil association in Brooks canyon yesterday afternoon, was completely checked.

Fanned by a brisk north wind, the flames spread rapidly and approximately 500 acres of brush was burned before members of the Laguna Beach fire department and a score of volunteers succeeded in controlling the blaze, late last evening.

The oil association's wooden derick, the engine house and its contents were completely destroyed. The loss at the well was said to be estimated at $8000, covered by about $5000 insurance.

Joe Skidmore and other Lagunans have stock in the well, which is financed largely by Long Beach capital. The drilling had progressed to approximately 4000 feet, it was said.

Sidelights On What Is Occupying Minds And Time of Solons

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 27.—Sportsmen from all parts of the state are sending representatives to the capitol for the open house on fish and game bills which the senate committee considering the proposed legislation will hold tonight.

Sub-committee of the senate motor vehicles committee last night voted to recommend 22,000 pounds as the maximum load to be carried by motor trucks on state highways. The decision followed several hours debate and was bitterly opposed by trucking interests.

Assembly judiciary committee last night listened to vigorous arguments against the community property measure already passed in the senate. Opponents of the measure argued that equal testamentary rights provided in the bill would impair business by weakening the assets of the other spouse in business.

The senate and assembly committees on public health into yesterday considered proposed legislation to curb the drug evil. Secretary Louis Zeh of the state board of pharmacy was present and discussed the situation with the legislators.

A bill making it a misdemeanor for any civil service employee of the state to contribute or solicit funds for the campaign of any candidate may be introduced as a result of the recent probe of the assembly committee headed by Assemblyman Henry Carter.

TWO ARRESTED ON RETURN HERE FREED

After police had failed to connect him with matters under which he was held on suspicion, and officials of the Dunton company, from which he was said to have stolen an automobile last week, had refused to prosecute him, Charles McCann, former salesman for the Ford agency here, was released from the county jail today.

George Kemper, his companion, who was also held, was released at the same time.

McCann and Kemper left Santa Ana in a sedan asserted to have been owned by the Dunton company, police said. After a search had failed, they returned and were arrested.

Issuance today of the building permit for the $185,000 Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. building, now under construction at Church and Sycamore streets, took this city well over the $1,000,000 mark in value of buildings begun here this year to date according to W. S. Decker, building inspector.

Seven permits had been issued at 10 a. m. today for a building value of $8,525, making the total for the month 127 permits for $289,884, and for the year to date 422 permits for $975,051 in buildings, the building inspector's records show.

Issuance of the Y. M. C. A. building permit shortly after noon carried the total to $1,160,051, Decker said.

SUPERVISORS APPROVE SANITARY DISTRICT

Resolution for the formation of a sanitary district at San Juan capistrano was passed today by the board of supervisors.

The petition of residents of that district, for such an action, had been before the board for several weeks. Last week the supervisors authorized the clerk to check the signatures, which were subsequently found satisfactory.

Buena Park school district bonds were sold to the Citizens' National bank of Los Angeles at a premium of $1,436.80.

INCOME TAX AUDIT TO BEGIN APRIL 1

A. B. Pich, deputy collector of internal revenue, with his office in the city hall here, had returned from Los Angeles today and reported that the district headquarters was prepared to begin auditing income tax returns April 1.

"The audit probably will be completed in August," he said. "It took that length of time last year. The greater number of returns filed than last year—25 per cent greater—will be overcome by additional help, I assume."

"Authoritative figures relative to Santa Ana and Orange county returns will not be available for some time."

COUNTY OIL INDUSTRY BECOMING GREATER

The growth of the petroleum industry in Orange county has been phenomenal. The proven oil acreage of the county is now over 5000 acres with 700 wells producing at the rate of about eighteen million barrels a year. New fields are being continually opened up and the increase in production is steady and substantial. At present about two and one-half million gallons of casing head gasoline is produced each year, the excess gas being supplied to the cities, towns and rural districts for fuel and light.

MAN WHO WED GIRL HERE IN BIGAMY NET

Asserted to have left his wife and two children at Ontario to come to Santa Ana to wed Dorothy Marie Martinez, 20, and pretty, of Arlington. Richard Prentice Collins, said to be a ball player, aged 22, who gave his residence as Los Angeles, was arrested in San Bernardino today on a charge of bigamy, according to word received here.

After procuring a marriage license at the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs here yesterday, Collins and Miss Martinez were married by Justice J. B. Cox.

The couple left for San Bernardino, where they registered at a hotel. The girl was placed in technical custody, but no formal charge was lodged against her, according to information received here.

At the office of Justice Cox, Collins directed that the marriage license be forwarded, after being recorded here, to Mrs. J. D. Brookins, Arlington.

It was expected that Collins would face his wife and two children today.

GATHER EGGS FOR HATCHING EARLY

Eggs saved during late winter or early spring for hatching should be gathered often enough through the day to prevent any possibility of the germs being killed from becoming chilled, says the United States department of agriculture, and for best results should be stored in a moderately cool place where the temperature is between 50 and 75 degrees F.

It is not advisable to hold hatching eggs longer than 10 days of two weeks before being incubated, and the fresher they are when set the better the chances of a good hatch and strong chicks. It is harmful to wash the eggs intended for hatching, as the pores become filled and the air is shut off from the living embryo.

It is also advisable to test the eggs in each sitting for the removal of the infertile ones, which will give a better chance to those that are left. This should be done about the sixth or seventh day. A simple home-made tester can be made in a few minutes from a small wooden or pasteboard box of such size that a common hand lamp, or a lantern, or a candle can be placed in it. A hole should be cut in the top directly over the flame, and another a little smaller than an egg in one side opposite the flame. The testing should be done in a dark room.

In testing, the light shining through the egg held against the hole in the side of the box, shows the condition of the egg. An infertile egg is clear, while the fertile egg will show a spiderlike formation, a center with long, crooked threads, leading outward, and this formation will float as the egg is turned.

SPEED 'COPS' NOT HIT BY DECISION

Decision in San Mateo county, to the effect that motorcycle officers there were being paid illegally, and that they would be thrown out of work, does not affect Orange county motorcycle officers, it was learned officially today.

The fact that in San Mateo county the officers were appointed by the board of supervisors, whereas they are appointed by the district attorney here, is said to be the crux of the situation.

In San Mateo county, the board proposed the office in violation, it was said, of the constitution. Here the men were appointed as investigators, to run down crime, specifically infractions of the motor laws. This is allowed for in article 4307, according to District Attorney A. P. Nelson.

RADIO PROGRAM OF FULLERTON SCORES BIG

KFAW presented a great air program last night when "Fullerton Night" was celebrated with a musical program marked by variety and high quality.

Due to the time taken up with encores of the various numbers, it was necessary to omit G. A. Raymer's ten-minute talk on "Fullerton and Northern Orange County" in order to keep within the hour allotted to KFAW broadcasting.

Every number presented made a genuine hit, and if there was an outstanding feature it was Ted Corcoran's xylophone selections, which ranged from classical to jazz selections.

The program, as presented, was as follows:

1. Soprano solo, (a) "Come Sing to Me," Thompson; (b) "La Paloma," Yradier; Mrs. Alexander Anderson, accompanied by Mrs. H. E. Rich.

2. Piano solo, "Kamennost-Ostrow," Rubenstein, Mrs. H. E. Rich.

3. Tenor solo, (a) "Sweetheart," Albert Von Tilzer, (b) "I Bring You Hearts Ease," Branscombe, Dr. H. H. Young, accompanied by David L. Wright.

4. Violin solo, (a) "Serenade," Drlia; (b) "Liebesfreud," Kreisler; (c) "From the Canebrake," Gardener; Miss Ethel Evans, accompanied by Miss Isabelle Ginter.

5. Xylophone solo, (a) "Semi-ramida," Rossini; (b) "Aloha," (c) "Lonesome Mamma Blues," Ted Corcoran, accompanied by Miss Alice Corcoran.

6. Soprano solo, (a) "After Every Party," Fridt; (b) "Kiss Me Again," Herbert; Mrs. Dalnar Devening, accompanied by Mrs. H. E. Rich; violin obligato by Miss Evans.

At the conclusion of the program the Fullerton party enjoyed a dinner party at St. Ann's Inn. Mrs. G. A. Raymer, Edgar Nelson, Arthur Long, Alexander Anderson and H. E. Rich were among the Fullertonites who came to Santa Ana for the radio program. Next Thursday night, another fine program may be expected by KFAW listeners, in which Laguna Beach talent will broadcast a program.

SCHOOL BURGLARY LAID TO STUDENTS

High school students, imitating the methods of the now famous "hammer burglar," were today held responsible by authorities for the burglary of a safe at the Orange union high school last night, and the theft of $40 in cash.

The building was entered with a pass key, according to Deputy Sheriff Herman Zuel, county finger print expert, who investigated the case. The combination of the safe was hammered off, with tools stolen from the janitor's room, which was also entered, and after the tumbler had been forced out, the door was opened.

The cash in the safe consisted of proceeds from contributions of senior class members. Several checks, totaling $40, including class pins and honor society emblems, and two loving cups were not touched.

The similarity of the methods at first led Orange authorities to believe that the mysterious "hammer burglar," whose depredations have totaled several thousand dollars lately, did the "job," but investigation led to other conclusions.

PRINCIPALS READY FOR MEET TONIGHT

Intimate glimpses of the fight of California educators, under the leadership of Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, to avert the damage they believed would ensue as result of slashes in school appropriations in the governor's budget, will be given by J. A. Cranston, Santa Ana school superintendent, at a dinner meeting of city school principals at James' cafe tonight.

Cranston attended the recent educational conference at Oakland and has kept in touch with the legislative committees that were appointed to appear at the Sacramento hearings on the school phases of the budget.

Mary A. Andrews, principal of the McKinley grammar school, and Olive E. Wagner, principal of the Sycamore grammar school, also are programmed to speak.

"My enemies nominated me for governor," Cranston will tell the principals was Wood's reply when told rumor declared his hat was in the ring for the 1925 gubernatorial election.

"If the people want me for governor," Cranston said, "Wood continued, 'I shall be willing to run for the office.'"

DISCOVERS GRAY HAIR RESTORER

At last men and women may restore the natural color to gray and faded hair with the assurance of perfect results, according to Prof. John H. Auslin, over 40 years a hair and scalp specialist. Prof. Auslin has discovered a preparation which is far in advance of present crude methods of dyeing and tinting gray hair. This preparation known as Co-Lo Hair Restorer, is just a clear, colorless, greaseless liquid which does not contain lead or sulphur or other injurious chemicals.

It is pleasing and simple to apply. Will not wash out, rub off, and cannot be detected like the ordinary hair dyes. Co-Lo Hair Restorer can be had for every natural shade of hair, A6, for black and all dark shades of brown; A7 for jet black hair, A8 for all medium brown shades, and A9 for all light brown, drab and Auburn shades. Co-Lo is sold by druggists everywhere.

Fashion Hails the Pump

It's Spring's version of the vogue for tongues and in every detail it's as trig and graceful a style as you could wish for to wear with crisp Spring costumes. The tongue effect which partially covers the instep gives a most pleasing effect without being so large that it has an appearance of heaviness.

Nothing is smarter than the way suede and patent are combined in this slipper, $10.00.

PRIVATE FORESTS LAY OPEN TO FIRE

Approximately 166,000,000 acres of privately owned forest land are wholly unprotected from fire, says the Forest Service, United Department of Agriculture. On many other areas the protection is incomplete and inadequate. Based on a six-year average, the annual loss of property from forest fires is $16,424,000. Yet a yearly expenditure of $9,263,000 would fairly protect all of the privately owned timber lands in the United States.

VALENCIA ORANGES OF COUNTY FAMOUS

The Valencia is the recognized "King of Oranges." Ideal climatic conditions, a rich soil and an abundance of water for irrigation purposes have all conspired to make it possible for Orange county to be known as the "Home of the Valencia," the finest of all oranges.

Quality and quantity in the raising of Valentinas is dependent upon just such equable climatic conditions as found here, where the cool sea breezes are always in evidence during the summer and the temperature of the winter months is softened by nearness to the ocean.

WEST VIRGINIA IS ACTIVE IN CAMPAIGN FOR BETTER Sires

Unusual interest in live-stock improvement in West Virginia is evidenced by records of the "Better sires—better stock" campaign conducted by the various states and the United States department of agriculture. In one day recently West Virginia filed with the department 100 enrollment blanks, each filled out by a live-stock owner who had placed his breeding operations on a strictly pure-bred sire basis for all kinds of stock kept. The enrollments were from twelve counties.

This voluntary activity is of additional interest in view of pure-bred-sire legislation which became effective in West Virginia January 1, 1923. The state law requires that all sires, including stallions, jacks, bulls, rams and boars kept for public service be pure bred and registered. Violations are punishable by fine or imprisonment. Participation by West Virginia live-stock owners in the "Better sires—better stock" movement, according to specialists in the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States department of agriculture, is an excellent indication of favorable sentiment in support of pure-bred-sire legislation.

STATE IS SEEKING 300 GOOD ANIMALS FOR DELHI COLONY

The state of California is in the market for 300 good Holstein-Friesian cows, tubercular free. This is the announcement of Dr. Elwood Mead, head of the State Land Settlement board.

These cows are desired for the settlers in the Delhi colony, in Merced county. At Delhi large quantities of alfalfa have been planned, and the crop of hay this year promises to be big.

Dr. Mead states that the possession of good dairy cows practically assures the success of the settler; hence it is the plan of the state to purchase these cows and sell them to the settlers on long time payment plan.

If the 300 cows cannot be obtained in California, it is proposed to send an expert to Wisconsin, or some other state where good grade Holstein cattle can be obtained, to bring them out to California.

FARM BOOKKEEPING TAUGHT IN SCHOOLS 21 OHIO COUNTIES

"Keeping books" on the farm work, or farm accounting, is now taught in the eighth grade of public schools in 21 Ohio counties, according to reports to the United States department of agriculture, as a result of agricultural extension work in farm management in these counties.

WOOL IS PRODUCED BY ALL OF STATES DEPARTMENT SAYS

Wool is produced in every state in the Union, according to reports of the United States department of agriculture. In 1922 production totaled 219,095,000 pounds (not including pulled wool) compared with 225,846,000 pounds in 1921. Wyoming and Texas led in production in 1922, having produced 22,500,000 pounds and 19,300,000 pounds, respectively.

Nazimova in a scene from "Camille," film which opens two-day engagement at the Princess tonight.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

PRINCESS—"Camille," with Nazimova.

YOST—Four acts of vaudeville and "A Blind Bargain," with Lon Chaney.

WEST END—"Making a Man," with Jack Holt.

"A BLIND BARGAIN AT YOST TONIGHT."

A new screen sensation is promised to motion picturegoers at the Yost theater, tonight, with the melodramatic film, "A Blind Bargain," is shown there.

Lon Chaney was engaged for the leading roles in "A Blind Bargain." In this new tingling photodrama, Chaney plays two roles; one is that of a half-mad surgeon who dreams he can prove the theory of evolution by turning man back into the simian like ancestor from whom he sprang by transplanting monkey glands into his body; the other is the monkey-like hunchback, victim of one of his experiments.

In "A Blind Bargain," the Doctor gives financial and medical aid to a struggling author who tried to hold him up in order to obtain money to restore his almost dying mother to health. In return the author agrees to let the Doctor experiment on him. Having fallen in love with a girl and been warned of the mental and physical dangers that threaten him from the coming experiment, he tries to buy his release from his agreement. He is strapped to the operating table by the Doctor, however, and is saved from a horrible fate only by the superhuman power that has come to one of the Doctor's former victims. Imprisoned in his private dungeon. This man, overpowered and crushed the Doctor to death when he enters the dungeon to get the monkey whose glands were to be transferred into the author's body.

Aside from Lon Chaney the cast includes Jacqueline Logan, former "Follies" beauty; Raymond McKee, Fontaine La Rue, Virginia True, Raymond, Aggie Herring and Virginia Madison.

MAKE OVER BURBANK FOR JACK HOLT PICTURE.

Some unusual things are done in motion pictures but not often is an entire town transformed as was done during the production of "Making a Man," a picture starring Jack Holt and the present attraction at the West End theater.

In the role of Horace G. Winsby, Holt is represented as the most wealthy man in San Geronimo, Cal., and he owns practically the entire town. Naturally, San Geronimo is a fictitious name. But it was necessary to take shots of some bustling little California city which could serve as San Geronimo. Burbank, a Southern California town where there is lots of activity, was chosen for the purpose.

Then did the little city of Burbank, ordinarily quite active, assume an even greater appearance of activity. For carpenters of the motion picture company set about putting up signs here and there to appear in the picture. Since Mr. Winsby almost owned the town, it was necessary that several signs bearing his name appear. Therefore, within a few minutes after the arrival of the Paramount company, many new and unfamiliar signs greeted the eyes of the citizens of Burbank. Some of them read: "Winsby Beet-Sugar Factory—Factory Number 2," "Horace G. Winsby—Real Estate and Farm Lands for Sale," "The San Geronimo News—Horace G. Winsby, Publisher," and "Winsby Loan and Savings Association."

"CAMILLE" OPENS RUN AT PRINCESS

Nazimova declares that "Camille" is of no period. Even in Dumas did know such a heroine in his times, there are thousands of playwrights of today who know the same woman, according to the star, whose film presentation of the famous old drama opens a two-day engagement at the Princess theater today.

This film has been made with modern costumes and settings. The most exotic atmosphere provides a brilliant background for the tale of life well lost for love, and those who love the bizarre will find it throughout the drama in the mirror room—the wonderful boudoir, and in the chic frocks not only of the star, but of the supporting cast. It ranks first among the many elaborate productions that Metro has ever issued, and in its whole atmosphere offers a poignant and appealing setting for the poor little butterfly whose life was so pitiful alike for its moral and physical weakness.

Featured in the production is Rudolph Valentino, as Armand, whose work upon the screen needs no description to the millions of moving picture fans, and the cast includes many well known players. In a point of spectacle and brilliance of cinematic achievement the film reflects high credit both to the artist-star the director and the cameraman. Natacha Rambova, who is now the wife of Valentino, designed many of the sets.

There will be matinees every day at 1:30 and 3:15 o'clock with two shows each evening at 6:30 and 8:45 o'clock.

"SUZANNA" COMING TO TEMPLE TOMORROW

The scenes depicted, the characters portrayed and the actions reflected in "Suzanna," Mack Sennett's latest Mabel Normand super-production, coming to the Temple theater tomorrow, are true to life of the early days of California.

The scenes represent not average studio settings with nothing more tangible than the imagination to go by, but are types of the original missions and habitations of the early Spanish-Californians, some of which still stand today in a more or less decent state of preservation. Sennett insisted, however, that the settings for "Suzanna" should appear as they did in 1835, and accordingly every set necessary to the picture was reproduced.

The characters in "Suzanna" are drawn with great fidelity. Only men and women who look their parts, in addition to being capable actors and actresses, were employed. And that is why such well known screen characters as Walter McGrail, Leon Barry, George Nichols, Carl Stockdale, George Cooper, Lon Poff, Winifred Bryson, Evelyn Sherman and others were chosen to support Miss Normand.

The story of "Suzanna" is one of love and romance with a vividly colorful background. It is historical in theme, and was adapted to the screen by Mack Sennett from a historical novel of the same name from the pen of Linton Wells.

FARMERS ADOPTING PURE BRED Sires

More than 9,500 farmers since the last census have placed their breeding operations on a strictly pure-bred-sire basis and are following methods leading to further improvement, records of the United States department of agriculture show. This has been a development of approximately three years. At the present rate of enrollment the number will pass the 10,000 mark within the next three months.

This number of live-stock owners represents the ownership of more than one million head of stock, all of which is improving by the use of pure-bred sires.

An additional requirement for enrollment in the campaign is that sires must be of good quality in addition to being pure bred. The department issues an attractive emblem of recognition to live-stock owners who cooperate in this activity.

WIDE RANGE GIVEN IN SEASIDE RESORTS

Because of the proximity of seashore and mountains, a wide range of recreational opportunities lie within the daily command of the resident of Orange county.

Attractions along the county's wonderful coastline are so numerous that one would doubtless fail were he to attempt to list them all. Residents of Costa Mesa have the beaches close at hand.

FARM BUREAU STRONG

With Orange county, according to the United States census, ranking among the highest producing counties of the United States, it is very fitting that the county should have, as it has, a strong and active farm bureau. Its purpose is to give to farmers and fruit growers information concerning the best methods in culture. Advice on problems, both general and specific, are constantly at the growers' demand. Costa Mesa has an active farm center, a member of the county bureau.

Nebraska Wesleyan Well Remembered By Happy Group

Breaking her Santa Ana visit with Miss Clara Glidden, Mrs. E. C. Sumner and Miss Nelle Sumner, with a brief stay at Long Beach as guest of former Nebraska friends, Mrs. E. F. Pettis of Lincoln, Nebraska and San Diego is expected to return to this city the latter part of the week for a few days' stay ere departing for her winter home in San Diego.

Many pleasant events have been planned for Mrs. Pettis during her visit in Santa Ana and many happy little reunions of former Nebraska Wesleyans have resulted.

Among the social affairs for which she offered incentive was a smartly appointed dinner party with which Mr. and Mrs. Ellis T. Yarnall recently entertained at their home, 1521 Council street, Los Angeles.

The home was rendered yet more attractive by the lavish use of sunflowers, the emblem of Nebraska Wesleyan university, while the table where an elaborate course dinner was served, was centered with the same vivid flowers whose colors of yellow and brown—those of the university—were repeated in minor appointments.

Places were indicated for Mr. and Mrs. Yarnall the hosts, and the honor guest, Mrs. Pettis and for Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. McPherson of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Roy McPherrin, Imperial; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Green, Inglewood, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sumner, Miss Nelle Sumner and Miss Clara Glidden, Santa Ana.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Yarnall graciously responded to the urgent requests of her guests by singing a group of well-chosen songs, and the evening was drawn to a conclusion by all joining in the Wesleyan song, "The Yellow and the Brown."

The Santa Ana party remained over night to be entertained at breakfast the following morning by Major Arthur Sperry, a cousin of Mrs. Sumner and Miss Glidden.

Last Saturday the group of friends took occasion to attend the Nebraska picnic in Sycamore Grove park.

Music Teachers

When Orange County Music Teachers meet tonight at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Harry Matthews (Ollie Mae Enlow Matthews), 2619 North Main street, there will be the pleasure of hearing two artists of whom the county may be justly proud. Madame Manuela Budrow, soprano and Clarence A. Gustlin, pianist.

Madame Budrow in addition to having a beautifully placed and trained voice is noted for her ability as a composer, among her more noted achievements being the score for the opera "Ramona." She has also appeared on many occasions with Charles Wakefield Cadman.

Mr. Gustlin also is noted as a composer, one of his songs in particular, "Left," having achieved wide prominence since its embodiment on the programs of Cecil Fanning.

Matters pertaining to the annual inter-county scholastic contest in music will be discussed preceding the program.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected. Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper—Adv.

Operatic Baritone Gives Pleasure To Club-Women

Creating an atmosphere of pure music, Carl Gantvoort, baritone, yesterday offered an afternoon of sheer delight to a large crowd of Ebell members and guests when he appeared at the Temple theater as the feature of the March program.

Tall and boyish in appearance, Mr. Gantvoort displayed his operatic training as he seemed unconsciously to dramatize each song. His program gave evidence of a wide versatility and opened with a sonorous, majestic group ranging from Beethoven's "Creation's Hymn" to "I Attempt from Love's Sickness," (Purcell) and "Adamastor, Roi des Vagues" (Meyerbeer) to the wailing, minor chords of "From Griet I Cannot Measure."

Mr. Gantvoort had, in William Tyroler, an accompanist worthy of his voice. Unfortunately Mr. Tyroler could not stay as much for the piano.

In twenty-three years of concert work, twelve of which were spent as leading accompanist with the Metropolitan Opera company of New York and three years with Rosa Ponselle, greatest living soprano, Mr. Tyroler had yesterday his first experience of playing on an upright piano rather than on a grand.

To add to the difficulties, the key of B flat would not sound and in one of Mr. Gantvoort's numbers, "The Golden Crown," written in the key of B flat, only true artists could have surmounted the difficulty.

"The Golden Crown" by the way, was one of the most charming numbers on the program. Written by the singer's brother, H. L. Gantvoort wit. Elwood Geares assisting in its arrangement, it was quite typical of the crooning, chanting spirituals of the Negro race. It was used in the first group given together with other quaint and unusual melodies, characteristic of national or racial phases. Included were: "The Pauper's Drive," (Sidney Homer) Molloy's rollicking "Thursday" and finally "Rolling Down to Rio."

In the remaining numbers, Mr. Gantvoort prefaced his rendition of "La Vent" (Charles Rene) with a free translation of the words of the song, given with a singularly beautiful speaking voice.

The song, so peculiarly appropriate to the day with its strong Santa Ana winds, was thus rendered more delightful. The masterful, blustering spirit of the opening stanzas, given with powerful yet seemingly restrained effect by the singer, was completely submerged in the sweet and gentle rhythms of the final stanzas.

"Infidelite" by Reynoldo Hahn, sadly wild and sweet, and "Ogie" Dancoff by a charming encore, McDowell's "Thy Beaming Eyes" while at the close of the final group of songs, the enthusiasm of the audience recalled Mr. Gantvoort to sing "The Little Streams of Duna" which brought to a conclusion quite the most delightful Ebell program of the year and one of the most pleasing of all the club's history.

The appearance of Mr. Gantvoort and Mr. Tyroler was made possible by the friendly interest of L. E. Behrmer, Los Angeles impresario. Mr. Gantvoort declared he hoped to remain on the coast as he was thoroughly converted to the religion of California. Mr. Tyroler will be in Los Angeles until May when he will rejoin Rosa Ponselle as her accompanist during her western tour.

Preceding the program a number of business matters were presented to the club by Mrs. Carrie Tople, vice-president, acting for Mrs. John Clarkson, Ebell president. Among the speakers called upon was Leonard G. Swales, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who spoke on the many issues arising in the coming elections, dwelling particularly on the bond election in regard to parks and the importance of the charter vote.

Mrs. Samuel Nau, chairman of the ways and means committee and also chairman of the committee of Ebell women which has assumed responsibility for the new Tea Room and Women's Exchange, told many interesting things in connection with her report of the progress and success of the new venture.

In the three weeks of the Tea Room's existence, according to Mrs. Nau, a sum of $72 has been cleared and added to the building fund for the club house. Such a record was recognized by the assembled women, as auguring well for the continued success of the venture. Mrs. Nau also brought the continued aid of the club members in serving at the noon luncheons.

Much interest was expressed in the report of the nominating committee which gave the names of those who will be voted upon at the annual club election the final Monday in April.

Names submitted were: President, Mrs. A. J. Crookshank; first vice president, Mrs. T. E. Peterson; second vice president, Mrs. S. W. Stanley; recording secretary, Mrs. R. G. Tuthill; corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks; treasurer, Mrs. N. A. Beals; curator, Mrs. J. W. McCormac; and directors, Mesdames S. M. Davis, P. R. Reynolds, C. F. Smith, M. A. Patton, O. M. Robbins and H. T. Trueblood.

Those on the nominating committee were Mesdames J. E. Paul, chairman; L. G. Swales, W. Z. Tedford, W. L. Delmiling and Miss Mabel McFadden.

Infant Chapter Of Eastern Star Has Birthday Celebration

Attaining the ripe age of one year, Santa Ana Chapter Order of Eastern Star took occasion to celebrate the event in a very pleasant manner at last night's regular chapter session.

The anniversary really occurred earlier in the month, but at the time was so delightfully celebrated by a dancing party tendered to both chapters and to Masonic friends by the Silver Cord Masons in honor of the event, that the formal celebration was postponed a few days.

During the session a number of business matters were considered among them being the election of Asa Hoffman as worthy patron. Four candidates were initiated and a pleasant hour was given over to talks by various distinguished guests including Mrs. Teusseau Whitson, worthy matron and James A. Tarpley, worthy patron of Hermosa chapter, while W. V. Whitson and Mrs. Tarpley were also among those present who spoke.

An exceedingly interesting talk was made by Elmer H. Metcalf, junior past patron of Chispa chapter, Anaheim, who with Mrs. Metcalf were in the Anaheim party which also included Mrs. Blanche C. Daniel and Mr. Alexander, worthy matron and worthy patron of Chispa chapter. They were also among the speakers as was Mrs. George Prather, one of the evening's initiates.

In the absence of Mrs. Samuel A. Marsden, Santa Ana's official organist, Mrs. Ardiell D. Clayton, a visitor from Hermosa chapter, took her place at the piano and gave the music for the impressive initiation ceremonies, in a most pleasing manner.

The evening's business concluded, members and guests were led to the banquet room where tables arranged in the five Star points, bore clever chocolate Easter egg favors thus combining the Easter motif with the birthday celebration.

In the hollow formed by the tables was a small stand bearing a huge pink and white cake with one tall candle. With a pleasing little talk of congratulations and birthday wishes, James T. Carter, Santa Ana chapter's first patron, presented the cake to his wife, Mrs. Carolyn Carter, present worthy matron who made a pretty ceremony of blowing out the candles and cutting the cake.

The happy occasion was enjoyed by a representative attendance of the rapidly growing chapter as well as by many of the warm friends of the "big sister" chapter of Hermosa and Star members from other cities, all of whom united in the sincere wish for "many happy returns of the day."

CITY PARK ON CREEK BANK FAVORED

The advisability of developing a city park along the banks of the Santiago creek from Main street to Flower street was discussed approvingly at a meeting of the Monday club last night, at the home of Fred Rafferty.

It was pointed out that the creek offers opportunity for unusual landscaping, and that it provides unusual recreational advantages. Most of the year a small stream of water passes along the creek.

It was learned today that promoters of the North Broadway Park tract to be opened between Flower street and the north extension of Broadway, north of Santa Clara avenue, have proposed to need to the city a strip from the S. P. bridge to Flower street, along the south side of the creek, this strip to include portions of the creek bed and a frontage on top of the south bank to vary in depth somewhat according to the turns in the creek.

The city of Santa Ana now owns a block of land along the creek above the Flower street bridge. This property was purchased fourteen years ago as a gravel bed.

The federal prohibition bureau is asking for an appropriation of $100,000 to make a census of drug addicts in this country.

Mah Jongg and Midnight Supper Honors Bride-Elect

Complimenting Miss Gladys Burns and her fiancé, Mr. Frank Arrim, of Orange, was a delightful Mah Jongg party given last night by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McClintock at their Fairview home.

Truly Oriental in all its aspects, the affair was one of enjoyment throughout the entire evening. Pink gladiolas and peach blossoms added to the effective setting for the series of games at which Miss Burns and Mr. Blaine Reinhaus proved most proficient. To Miss Burns was presented a quaint Japanese parasol which she will add to the pretty things of her trousseau while Mr. Gibson received a cigarette case.

Miss Marjory Warner and Mr. Tim Trythall were consoled, the former with a Chinese ginger jar and the latter with a box of Mah Jongg candies.

At the conclusion of the games, Mrs. McClintock gave a most original touch to her tables by centering them with moss and ferns to simulate an Oriental garden whose tiny peach trees were laden with blossoms. Wee mandarins, Manchus ladies and gelsa girls were in evidence and the whole effect was of beauty and quaintness amid which a midnight supper of fried chicken, salad, and a sweets course was rendered doubly delicious.

Quiet Wedding Crowns Romance

A wedding of quiet simplicity at which Judge John B. Cox officiated yesterday crowned the schoolyard romance of Miss Adelle Pearl Hawkins of Roscoe, Texas and Donovan Charles Crawford formerly of Roscoe and more recently of Long Beach.

The ceremony was at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the only attendants were Miss Corinne Crawford, sister of the groom and Miss Ruth Graves. Miss Hawkins wore a smart frock of blue tulle with pretty tulle hat to match.

Immediately after the ceremony, the happy couple motored to Long Beach to the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Crawford, where an elaborate wedding luncheon was served.

After a honeymoon at Catalina, the young people will locate in Long Beach where Mr. Crawford is employed in the oil fields.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hawkins of Roscoe, Texas and arrived in this city as the guest of Miss Corinne Crawford, only a short time before the wedding.

Arriving at the end of the week to spend his vacation at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Paul, Cassius Paul, a student at U. S. C. dental school, was today en route to the Imperial valley for a few days motoring trip which he will enjoy with his father, Dr. Paul.

Returning from Anaheim where he recently underwent a major operation at a hospital in that city, J. W. Cooley of 211 East Tenth street, was today expressing his pleasure of being home again and hoping soon to be able to resume his place with the salesman force of the Spurgeon Furniture company.

Ladies' Aid Society

Mrs. J. N. Osborne, 1639 East Fourth street will open her home to members of the northeast section of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church tomorrow at 2 o'clock. Members are asked to note the time as it was announced in the church bulletin as 2:30 and they are requested to meet at the earlier hour as much sewing awaits them. It is hoped a good attendance will rapidly lower the accumulated pile of garments to be stitched.

All members and visiting members will be cordially greeted at the all-day meeting of the Woman's Benefit association of the Macca-bees which will be held tomorrow at the home of Mrs. M. L. Galbraith 1601 West Fourth street. A pleasant social time and a delicious luncheon at the noon hour are among the anticipated features.

Young Attorney Expected to Arrive With Charming Bride

Plans were today being made by M. Max Reinhaus of West Fourth street to greet his son Stanley Reinhaus who with his bride, is expected to arrive tomorrow after a leisurely motor honeymoon trip from Weiser, Idaho where the marriage was an event of early March.

Mrs. Reinhaus was Miss Selma Haas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haas of Weiser and well known in this city where she has visited at the home of Miss Pauline Reinhaus of North Main street. It was during one of these visits that the romance between the charming daughter of Idaho and one of Santa Ana's sons, blossomed and ripened.

The wedding was an event in Weiser social circles and among the large group of relatives and friends were Mr. and Mrs. Max Reinhaus of this city, parents of the bridegroom who only recently saw the wedding of the daughter of their home, Miss Helen Reinhaus to Paul Goldman of Oakland.

Returning from the Weiser ceremony, Mrs. Reinhaus paused in Oakland for a visit of several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Goldman. Mr. Reinhaus came directly southward to Santa Ana arriving yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reinhaus will sojourn at the parental home until the completion of their own pretty bungalow in the Oakmont addition. Mr. Reinhaus is one of the promising young attorneys of the city, being a member of the firm of Reinhaus, Forgy and Scarborough in the First National bank building.

If you are a constipation victim you need Bran that is ALL "BRAN"

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is so delicious and inviting that thousands of families use it constantly to make enticing bakery batches, such as bran muffins, pancakes, raisin bread, etc.; they eat it as a cereal, and many sprinkle it on their favorite cereal, its nut-like flavor having a fine appeal.

Many more thousands of people eat Kellogg's Bran every day of their lives because it has permanently relieved them of constipation and the dangers of dreaded diseases that constipation leads to. If you are suffering with constipation you need ALL BRAN—Kellogg's Bran—with its permanent corrective qualities. Foods that are part bran can never give the desired relief because they do not contain sufficient of the elements that Kellogg's Bran naturally contains.

When you know that constipation leads directly to Bright's disease and other ailments, there is no time to be lost in experimenting. Kellogg's Bran, delicious in its patented cooked and krumbled form, becomes an immediate necessity. If it is eaten regularly (two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with each meal)—it will relieve constipation permanently! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran. It will free you from proprietary pills and cathartics which are as system-racking and almost as dangerous to health as constipation itself!

Serve Kellogg's Bran regularly. Watch the health of your entire family improve. It is wonderful for children. Kellogg recipes are printed on each package. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

don't leave
"him" out.

That very important member of your household, perched high on his baby throne—don't leave him out when the Germea bowls go 'round. Once a child is past the infant stage it's not a bit too early to start him going-and-growing on this delicious cereal. Full of life-energy because it contains the germ, the most nutritious part of the wheat. That's why children are so quick to thrive on it!

Note to mothers:—For high-chair folk you make Germea the usual way and then run through a coarse strainer. Beginning with two teaspoonfuls at 7 months, the quantity increases until, at 12 months, a child should have two tablespoonfuls twice a day, morning and evening. Ask your doctor—and your grocer!

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, March 27.—Stocks today gave unmistakable indications of important improvement in the market's international position. Early weakness resulted from the throwing overboard of accounts on which additional collateral was not forthcoming. When these operations had been absorbed, the general list started on a recovery which lasted through the remainder of the session.

Wall street began to realize that misgivings over the money situation had been overdone and many traders who sold their holdings at higher levels were quite willing to replace their lines at the prevailing recession. In addition, the market had the support of an extensive short interest, so that its technical condition was in good shape for a rally.

The market closed higher.

GRAIN PRICES GAIN ON CHICAGO BOARD

(By United Press Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, March 27.—Under the leadership of corn, all grain prices were strong and higher at the close of the Chicago board of trade today. Wheat was bought freely. Exporters took grain heavily as exchanges in Europe will be closed Friday and Saturday. Wheat for the deferred months was bought as a result of reports of dry weather injuring the crops in the southwest and continued light receipts throughout that section. The world visible wheat supply decreased 3,144,000.

The cash demand for corn was active. Considerable corn was sold for export. About 500,000 bushels of rye were sold for shipment abroad with Germany bidding for 80,000 bushels additional. Bradstreet's estimate of the world's visible supply of corn at 32,443,000, a decrease of 659,000.

Oats was in good demand by feeders and followed the advance of other grains. The visible supply decreased 471,000.

Free buying of lard by European interests showed an advance in provision prices.

PRICES ARE STEADY ON S. F. MARKETS

(By United Press Leased Wire)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—The first drawer of peninsula strawberries was received today and sold for $2. Additional receipts will follow soon. Southern strawberries were in lighter receipt and brought $3.75 to $4.50 per crate.

Early receipts of asparagus amounted to 3,000 boxes and dealers were of the opinion that the total for the day would reach 4,000 boxes. As a result of the increased receipts, prices were considerably lower, with field run grades selling from 9c to 10c per pound and graded at 12 to 14c.

There was a material advance on onions. A few sales were reported at $3 to $3.25 per cwt.; but many dealers are holding their stock at $3.50. There is not a great amount of activities on potatoes but the market is much firmer and rivers are selling from $1.50 @ $2, according to quality. Choice potatoes are offered at $2.25 at shipping point.

Supplies of large colored hens were lighter and fancy stock is now selling from 29 to 31 cents per pair. Other classes of poultry are steady to firm.

U. S. ATHLETES IN LINE FOR TITLES

Farrell Says Richards To Take Championship At Wimbledon Tourney

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 27.—American colors were spread all over the place when the outdoor season had its real opening in England last week. The display of those same colors should appear almost in the same proportion as the season progresses.

With the exception of the British amateur golf championship, the American entries in all of the other European classics border on the cinch class. It does not follow that the American amateur golfers going in quest of the British title are of inferior ability, but the team is not representative of the real power of the amateur game in this country.

Vincent. Richards announced sometime ago that he had decided to go after the tennis championship at Wimbledon and "Vinnie" stands a mighty fine chance to win the title that was won twice by "Big Bill" Tilden.

Richards Should Win.

Richards is the third among the tennis players of this country, but there are no players on the other side who can compare with Tilden or Bill Johnston, the only ones who rank above the Fordham youth here.

Several recent occurrences will help Richards win his way through the tournament. If the Australians carry out their plan to send a team of youngsters after the Davis cup, Gerald Patterson, the present Wimbledon champion, will not be able to defend his title; and that removes the biggest obstacle Richards would have to face.

Another formidable contender was also removed from competition when Manuel Alonso, the brilliant Spanish player, came to this country to establish himself in business. With his brother, he is going to make Philadelphia his home and will not compete in the Wimbledon tournament or in the Davis cup matches.

French Lack Experience.

France has also several good young players but they lack the experience of the American boy and none of the veteran players have anything on him.

Forced against Mlle. Langien, who seems to be in the best form of her career, Mrs. Leslie Bancroft, the Boston girl who is now in England, can hardly hope to win the woman's championship at Wimbledon, but she has a fine chance to finish second, and that's all any American can aspire for at the present time, with the French girl at the peak of her game.

The American delegation of "pro" golfers, headed by Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, James Barnes and Jock Hutchison, makes it look as though there will be a battle royal among the Americans for the British open cup.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

BY EDDIE WEST

If Fullerton high school wants to make the most of its opportunity in staging the annual Orange county track and field meet next Saturday it would be well for the North-east officials to take a few hints from Coach Ray Walker and his associates of the Huntington Beach high school.

Not that Fullerton won't do its share in promoting the classic properly. The North county school always had a reputation for doing things up in great fashion. But in the consideration of half a dozen little details it would do well to follow the plan employed by Walker's crew in the Tri-County meet at Huntington Beach next Saturday. Anyone may profit by experience.

Few, if any, track meets in this or any other county have been more successfully arranged as that at Huntington Beach.

The greatest step for improvement was the lack of waiting for the different events to be run off. Young players but they lack the first race of the afternoon, would be called at 1:30 o'clock. When 1:30 o'clock arrived the half miler was on their marks.

The program said the relay would be started at 3:50 o'clock. When that time arrived the relay was under way and every other event, those in the field as well, had been completed.

This system of calling the events as they were actually scheduled prevented long waits and dull moments and late supper and a lot of disappointed customers. The bleacherites and the coaches and the athletes left with nothing but praise for the management and the officials.

The reporter, in a way at least, is a public servant. He is sent to "cover" a track meet or a baseball game or a lecture and to tell the public, in his own words and as accurately as possible, what actually happened.

Coach Walker and Principal Jones of the Huntington Beach high school appreciated that duty. They went out of their way to make the scribes at the meet feel they were welcome and at home, something that does not happen on every assembly. Walker saw to it that the scribes were on the field with badges so there would be no chance for them to get chased off. A dozen little kindnesses on the part of Principal Jones sent the reporters home after the meet entirely contented with the afternoon.

The Huntington Beach track was in perfect condition. This was much to do with the breaking of Tri-county records in the 100, 220, 440, 880 and both hurdles.

It is estimated that the 1922 consumption of meat in the United States slightly exceeded 150 pounds a person.

The average wage for male farm labor for all the United States is $28.97 a month, with board and lodging.

C. OF C. COMMITTEE BOOSTS ALL BONDS

This morning, following consideration of the various proposals on the ballot to be used at Thursday's election, the public improvement committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution urging the passage of all of the bonds.

The voters were appealed to go to the polls Thursday and to cast their votes favorably to each of the nine proposals.

The resolution was passed by the unanimous vote of all of the members of the committee, present: H. H. Dale, D. K. Hammond, W. D. Bawer and T. E. Stephenson.

ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR BIG ALL-SOUTHERN CLASSIC TO BE HELD AT POLY APRIL 28

Five places will be counted in scoring the standings of teams in the Southern California High School Track and Field meet which will be held on the Santa Ana high school oval, Saturday, April 28.

The place is strategically located. It is bound to have a big and important part in the county's development.

At the same time it was learned that preliminaries in the relay race, the dashes, the hurdles, the quarter-mile and probably the half-mile will be held Wednesday, April 25, beginning at 3:30 p. m., at Patterson field, Occidental College, Los Angeles.

Seth E. Van Patten, of Los Angeles high school, who is in the past will manage the All-Southern track classic this year, will come to Santa Ana next week to look over the situation here and make suggestions as to handling the affairs of the big meet which is expected to draw approximately 200 of the star athletes of the Southern California high schools.

Count Five Places

In counting five places in the total score the points will be apportioned as follows: First place, 5; second place, 3; third place, 2; fourth place, 1, and fifth place 1/2.

Those eligible to enter the Southern California interscholastic will be the athletes who have placed first, second, third or fourth in their respective league meets. For instance, men who place in the Orange county meet at Fullerton next Saturday will have the right to enter the All-Southern from this division.

Any school will be allowed to enter one athlete in addition to those who took places in their league affair. This provision is intended to take care of any boy who may have been ill at the time of the league meet or who may have been disqualified by accident or other misfortune.

The Los Angeles city league will be allowed to enter five men in each event because that organization recently took San Diego high school into its membership.

Award Many Medals

Suitable medals will be given the five place winners in each event, a feat at the hands of major league opponents when the Cleveland Indians swamped them 7 to 2.

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—The Athletics A and B teams bunched together here today in an attempt to defeat Mobile. Then the Mackmen will bust up again to play two sets of exhibition games.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—The Yanigans got 14 hits and defeated the Pirates regulars 9 to 2.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Six rookies have been picked by Miller Huggins to start the season on the bench with the New York Yanks. Harvey Hendricks, Hinkley Haines and O. D. Tucker will do outfield reserve; Johnny Wright will serve as utility infielder and Bernie Bengough and George Artus will fill in in the catching department. Huggins made no decision about pitchers.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—After giving a private workout to Jack Bentley, the $50,000 Baltimore pitcher, Manager McGraw said he felt confident that he would make the grade with the Giants.

CLEAR WATER, Fla.—The Mobile Southern association club probably will get the first crack at the discarded rookies of the Brooklyn Robins.

TAMPA, Fla.—Sam Rice, veteran Washington outfielder, has found his batting eye early this season. He has been slugging for an average of over 400 in the practice games thus far.

SAN FRANCISCO—George Stueand of the Chicago Cubs, pitched an entire game against San Francisco, winning five to three.

SEGUIN, Texas—Every minute of playable weather this week is being utilized by the White Sox in a final effort to round the team into condition by the time permanent camp here is broken up Friday.

ATHENS, Ga.—The Detroit Tigers suffered defeat yesterday at the hands of the Rochester International league team five to three.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Three Reds, Staley, Reitenberg and Rodriguez, will be left with the Orlando team when the Reds break camp here Wednesday night.

JERSEY CITY—Johnny Curtin, Jersey City bantam, outpointed Young Montreal, Providence, by a shade in a 12 round, no-decision bout.

BUFFALO—Charlie O'Connell, Cleveland, won a 12 round decision over Teddy Myers, Buffalo. Benny Valgar, New York, defeated Harry Cook, Omaha.

Kid Vick, East Pembroke, knocked out Pewee Smith, Omaha, in the third round of a scheduled four round bout.

It is estimated that 22,400 American business firms failed during the year 1922. This is 2600 more than the year before.

POLY, PASADENA IN CLASH ON DIAMOND

Coach Orion Neff's Santa Ana high school baseball team this afternoon was at Pasadena battling with the Crown city diamond squad in a non-league tilt.

With Coffman, catcher, and Finley, third sacker, still out of the game with the flu, the Poly chances for a victory were not considered any too good as Pasadena's club is rated as one of the best in the South.

Bill Luck, shortstop, who was out of the league fracas at Huntington Beach last Friday afternoon when Poly suffered an unexpected defeat, has returned to the fold and was expected to take his regular position today.

Earl Jabs was to do most of the heaving with "Chick" Brown behind the bat.

Santa Ana will hook up with H. M. Davis' Orange high school squad here next Friday afternoon in the third league encounter. Orange trounced Huntington Beach two weeks ago so Neff's band will have a tough assignment on its hands.

Coffman, who captained last year's team and who has caught for the locals for three years, will probably be back in the harness for the Orange affair.

Few, if any, track meets in this or any other county have been more successfully arranged as that at Huntington Beach.

The greatest step for improvement was the lack of waiting for the different events to be run off. Young players but they lack the first race of the afternoon, would be called at 1:30 o'clock. When 1:30 o'clock arrived the half miler was on their marks.

The program said the relay would be started at 3:50 o'clock. When that time arrived the relay was under way and every other event, those in the field as well, had been completed.

This system of calling the events as they were actually scheduled prevented long waits and dull moments and late supper and a lot of disappointed customers. The bleacherites and the coaches and the athletes left with nothing but praise for the management and the officials.

The reporter, in a way at least, is a public servant. He is sent to "cover" a track meet or a baseball game or a lecture and to tell the public, in his own words and as accurately as possible, what actually happened.

Coach Walker and Principal Jones of the Huntington Beach high school appreciated that duty. They went out of their way to make the scribes at the meet feel they were welcome and at home, something that does not happen on every assembly. Walker saw to it that the scribes were on the field with badges so there would be no chance for them to get chased off. A dozen little kindnesses on the part of Principal Jones sent the reporters home after the meet entirely contented with the afternoon.

The Huntington Beach track was in perfect condition. This was much to do with the breaking of Tri-county records in the 100, 220, 440, 880 and both hurdles.

It is estimated that the 1922 consumption of meat in the United States slightly exceeded 150 pounds a person.

C. OF C. COMMITTEE BOOSTS ALL BONDS

This morning, following consideration of the various proposals on the ballot to be used at Thursday's election, the public improvement committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution urging the passage of all of the bonds.

The resolution was passed by the unanimous vote of all of the members of the committee, present: H. H. Dale, D. K. Hammond, W. D. Bawer and T. E. Stephenson.

LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE IS GIVEN HERE

A LECTURE ON Christian Science, on "The Science of Perfection," was given here last night by Frank Bell, C. S. B., of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Introductory remarks by Carl G. Stock, reader, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Santa Ana, California, were:

"One of the most important discoveries awaiting the investigator of Christian Science is that the spiritual meaning of the Scriptures heal the sick.

"The public entertains many misconceptions as to what Christian Science really teaches. Lectures such as will be given here tonight are for the purpose of affording to those who honestly desire to know.

"It must be admitted that the world is better for any religion which tends to make its followers hopeful, helpful and cheerful, and I know that Christian Science is doing much to make this a better and happier world for all.

"Mr. Bell then spoke as follows: The Bible avers that all things were made by God, that without Him was not anything made that was made. The Bible avers that God saw, comprehended, all that He had made, creation in its entirety, and behold, it was very good. It was right.

The Bible avers that everything that was made, all reality, not only was in the beginning perfect and complete, but is now and everlastingly will be perfect and complete. In the words of Ecclesiastes (3:14), "whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it."

These declarations are true, not only because they appear in the Bible. They are true because they could not possibly be untrue. Reason and logic affirm the sublime simple proposition that the intelligence and ability to create a universe imply the intelligence and ability to create it right.

But while revelation and reason agree as to the unanswerable fact, human sense argues through a thousand daily experiences, that discord, fear, sin, and disease, myriad forms and phases of evil, do exist, are a part of actuality; that creation, if it ever was good and right, was not sufficiently good and right to remain forever good and right.

There is conflict, in other words, between pure reason and human experience. This conflict apparently is so one-sided that the propositions of scholastic theology seem sometimes to be reduced almost to a basis of mere blind hope of better things in another world; while materialism is tempted to continue the quest for contentment in things seen and felt, and animalism is glad for an excuse to wallow in forgetfulness. These expedients of course do not suffice. Fear and doubt walk hand in hand with blind hope. There is no real satisfaction in material things. Pangs of suffering disturb the dream of sensuality. Human history testifies that the way of the believer in imperfection is hard.

Fortunately, in all ages there have been prophets and seers who were not wholly deceived by the apparently overwhelming weight of material sense testimony on the wrong side. A discussion of Christian Science involves consideration of the fact that in the nineteenth century a woman saw the incongruity between the truth of being and the experience of human life. She saw that perfect God and imperfect man could not both be true. Imperfection could not be real unless God, the creator of all, is its author. Imperfect creation could be the product only of imperfect creator. To her the question was clear-cut and unescapable. Her answer was such as would be inevitable from one who loved God wholeheartedly and earnestly as did Mary Baker Eddy, in her textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," page 113, she writes: "According to the Scripture, I find that God is true, 'but every (mortal) man a liar.' The sense of things that denies the perfection of God and His creation is false.

This fundamental proposition of Christian Science is indeed "according to the Scripture." Write St. Paul to Timothy: "All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect."

The purpose of the Bible is to reprove, correct, instruct in righteousness, until naught remains that denies the perfection of God's man. According to the Scripture, God is true, and aught that argues to the contrary is false.

The Scripture, it will be observed, is intended not merely to affirm the goodness of God, but by reproof, correction, and instruction, to destroy whatever appears to be in the way of the realization of God's goodness. The goodness of God has been preached for centuries by those who were ready to accept the Scripture as profitable for doctrine. But when confronted with the conflict between the goodness of God, as a theory, and the apparent evidence of the actuality of evil in human experience, mankind needs something more than doctrine.

What is needed in this emergency is Science, something that will work: something that will work really; Christianly, toward the end of the Scriptural intent; in other words, Christian Science, which, after the manner of the Scripture, reprove, corrects, instructs, that the evidence that makes for imperfection may be undone.

When Mrs. Eddy learned that it is the physical senses which presume to take issue with God's perfection, she saw that it is the impressions of these senses which constitute what the Bible terms the carnal mind, that is enmity against God if God's man is all right, the mind or sense which is that he is partly wrong or living under a false sense; and it is the business of scriptural Christianity to reprove, correct, and instruct thought until the false sense disappears, that "the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works."

Mrs. Eddy calls this false sense of things mortal mind, to distinguish it from immortal Mind, which latter is properly spelt with a capital M for it is a complete synonym for God. When Paul declared that salvation should be found in taking on the mind that was in Christ Jesus, he, of course, knew that Jesus had distinctly repudiated the so-called mind or sense of things that accepted any evidence of reality in aught unlike the nature of God.

Mortal mind must be put off. Why? Because it is composed of that material sense which is unable to resist the temptation to believe that mindless, inert, non-intelligent matter has the capacity within itself to think, to act, to live; to believe that man, therefore, is not the image and likeness of God Spirit, but is a piece of physical mechanism. Mortal mind consists of the thoughts that it thinks. Therefore, as the Bible declares, "We wrestle not against flesh and blood." We are engaged in a warfare against wrong thinking. Christian Science is that which will continue through the ages, to reprove, correct, instruct, until there shall remain not one impious suggestion of denial that the man of God is spiritual and perfect, and the transcendent purpose of Scripture will be truth fulfilled. It is a good thing to have a part in such a glorious activity.

TRUE IDEAL ESSENTIAL. Shall it be said that it is inconsistent, as some critics appear to believe, for the Christian Scientist to make a practice of affirming the perfection of God and all that He has created, including man, while yet the Christian Scientist, in his human experience, is far from perfect?

Suppose there was a superior person at hand, who would say: "How absurd to affirm something you have not seen! I will believe the mountain has a top when you can show it to me. 'Which of you is absurd? How could you show things unless he went with you? Will the mountain stoop to prove itself to even so superior a person? Mahomet was wiser. When the mountain would not come to him, Mahomet went to the mountain.

We are always sorry when our critics behave like that superior person, when they seem to find inconsistency in the Christian Scientist's affirming the perfection of being while yet struggling with the claims of imperfection. The critics are not always quite fair to us. They themselves doubtless are aware that every step in human progress has been made possible because aspiration ranged ahead of accomplishment. The artist's ideal is better than his production. The inventor's concept is more complete than his advice. Those who would achieve are wisely counseled not to hitch their wagon to a star. Shall the Christian Scientist alone be chided for so doing?

There is yet hope for our superior friend. If we will be patient with him he may one day be willing to put his stubborn pride in his pocket, so as to take at least a few steps up the mountain of truth, and there in the comparatively broader view he may have a healing experience that will mean something even to him.

Paul, who declared that the goal of religion is nothing short of perfection, wrote: "I count not myself to have apprehended; but... forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark."

That over the head he makes it clear that even though he is a lawbreaker of sin was working in his members, his bodily sense of being, it was consistent and right that with his mind or spiritual sense of being he should serve the law of God.

SIMPLE OF APPLICATION. The prayer of perfection is universally available. There is no human problem that may not yield to a healing influence. Intellectual proficiency need not a recital, else the simple fishermen of Galilee could not have caught their meaning and method. It is a matter of right thinking. You are master of your thought. If you so choose. Your affairs, of body, mind, surrounding, are the coincident expression of your thought.

If you will begin, as a systematic daily mental practice, to contemplate the essential nature of God, as best you can conceive of Him, and definitely and in an orderly fashion to affirm in your thought the reality of God's nature; if you will in like manner systematically and persistently deny the essential reality of all that is unlike the nature of God; if you will do this not as a matter of vain repetition but with an earnest striving to bring into actuality some degree of conscious realization of the actual presence and power of God, operating in and through you to bring into expression the essentials of His nature, you will find that, asking bread, you will not be given a stone.

You will find, if your experience does not differ from that of countless thousands of your fellow-men, that the setting into operation of these processes of Christianity scientific thinking will begin to be made manifest in most practical ways in your experience, in healing of sickness, overcoming of fear, mastery of lack, suppression of discord, elimination of fear. There is rich reward in taking your stand mentally on the side of the good God and His good creation.

You need not demand to enter into your full heritage of perfection by a mere profession of words. Centuries of mistaken affirmation of reality and power in evil may not be wholly overcome in a day. You need not be in a hurry to find the work, but there is no excuse for not making haste to begin. The beauty of this Science is that it quickly verifies itself in the experience of the earnest student. It is like mathematics in that respect. A few simple applications of the very first rules will prove the principle and inspire the confidence necessary to further progress. The rule of addition does not solve the problem of Euclid, but does assure it. In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mrs. Eddy, are set forth the simple rules by which the all-inclusive fact of being may be apprehended.

There is nothing the matter with God. His creation. The trouble is with our sense of things. We need to take on the mind that was in Christ Jesus, which enabled him to say with absolute conviction, "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." We need not merely to believe this theoretically, but to affirm it practically, to hurl it as a spiritual weapon against the arguments of imperfection, as did the Master. He was not propounding a philosophy. He was solving about doing good; not theorizing, but accomplishing.

If we would be scientific Christians, our answer to the suggestions of evil must be, "Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve." The medicine of the Great Physician was denial of error and affirmation of truth. By this purely spiritual process the sick were healed, the lame walked, the dumb spake, the blind saw, the dead were raised. And the method was always the same—the definite rule of imperfection denied, perfection affirmed. "He sent his word, and healed them." Here was such clear realization of the fact of perfection that mere belief in the supposition of imperfection faded out of consciousness.

Do you doubt that this was the method by which Jesus healed? Well, you do not need to doubt. You may prove the rule for yourself, modestly at first, perhaps, but assuredly. Or if the odds seem too heavy for you at the beginning, you may have the loving help of others, until the evidence in your experience is sufficient to enable you to proceed with confidence and success.

SOUTH PLEDGES AID FOR VALENCIA SHOW

Because the increasing production of the citrus groves of California demands that new markets be found and the Valencia Orange show of Anaheim is an excellent medium for bringing new buyers to the Southland Orange country and Southern California cities owe it their moral and financial support.

This was the main thought which nearly seventy-five representatives of Southern California cities, civic, fraternal and other organizations gained from a meeting held last night at the Elks' club, Anaheim, at which plans for the third annual show were discussed and much aid was promised the project.

The board of supervisors has set aside $2500 to assist the show, which is to be held this year from May 26 to 30.

One of the speakers was I. G. McBeth, of the Bastanchury ranch, reputed to be the largest citrus grower and shipper in the world, who pledged the full support of his company to the show.

Herman Stern, president of the Valencia show, reviewed briefly the history of the show in the two years it has been held. The association began in a small way in 1920 and was able to invest $45,000 in fifteen acres of Valencia oranges, he said. This property, he said, was now valued at $75,000.

Representatives were present from Pasadena, Corona, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Whittier, Fullerton, Santa Ana, Anaheim, Orange, Buena Park, Olive, Riverside, Pomona and other Southland cities.

MEETING POSTPONED
HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 27.—The city board of trustees did not meet last night. The meeting was postponed until next week.

The Women's club is meeting this afternoon.

ANAHEIM ARREST
ANAHEIM, March 27.—David Knight, 25 years old, was arrested last night at a local rooming house and lodged in the city jail charged with intoxication.

TOO MUCH ACID
RED OAK, Iowa, March 27.—Results of tests for acidity indicate that there is scarcely a farm in Montgomery county which is not below normal on account of acidity in the soil. "Less than four farms have been found so far in the county which show no acidity," says County Agent George Dillon of the farm bureau, "and these exceptions are due to the fact that there is a natural limestone in the soil." Without the lime Montgomery county farms will soon wear out.

SPEED PLANS FOR MARINE SERVICE

Arrangements today were virtually completed by the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, for the Easter sunrise service to be held on Marcy Heights next Sunday morning.

The Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will deliver the Eastern sermon. Services, scheduled to begin at 6:45 o'clock or exactly at sunrise, will be opened with a xylophone duet, "In the Garden," by Lizetta Phillips and Merle Ramsey. This will be followed by violin selections by Elwood Bear, trombone solos by Mrs. Edith Thompson and duets by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hummel.

The Rev. Mr. Porter, representing the Santa Ana Ministerial association, said that there would be community singing and special numbers, now being arranged.

"We can take care of something like 1500 or 2000 persons and a cordial invitation is extended to the public," he said.

"For the information of those who have not made the pilgrimage to Marcy Heights on Easter Sunday, it is only necessary to say that all those who have enjoyed the service in previous years have been extremely grateful for the opportunity of worshipping God in the great outdoors. An early start will aid very materially in the full enjoyment of the service. The ceremonies will last about one hour."

SUSPECTS GRILLED BY L. A. OFFICERS

Stray threads in the net which Southern California authorities have drawn about the asserted gang of oil well apparatus thieves, were drawn together today, as Orange county officials had arrested another man on suspicion of connection with the band.

Ernest E. James, Huntington Beach, was being held in the Orange county jail on a felony warrant secured in justice court here. He was arrested at Huntington Beach late yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Knox, acting on instructions from Sheriff Sam Jernigan. While authorities would not divulge James' exact connection with the asserted ring, it was stated that he was involved in the transfer of pipes and tools said to have been stolen at Signal Hill.

SUSPECT IN WELL RIG THEFTS HELD

Myron Horn, Louis Rich and E. Murphy, arrested in Fullerton yesterday morning, on a charge of transporting liquor, today were held in Los Angeles for investigation of their records. They were turned over to Los Angeles authorities late yesterday by A. E. Ellis, city marshal of Fullerton.

Following a plea of guilty yesterday and payment of a fine of $150 each, the men were held by Ellis as suspicious characters.

Ellis was unable to connect them with any of the crimes committed in Orange county recently. In the opinion of the Fullerton marshal, the men were not implicated in an affair in Los Angeles Sunday in which Robert Bell, 19, was killed. Los Angeles papers today intimated possible connection of the men with the killing.

When taken into custody yesterday morning, implements used by criminals were found in their possession.

COUNCIL HEARS S. A. BONDS IN DEMAND AS SECURITIES

Santa Ana's bonds, as securities, stand high in the investment world, according to statement made to the city council here last night by Clyde Bishop, special city counsel.

Bishop's statement was incidental to a discussion of the interest rate that should be established for the $300,000 issue of bonds to be voted on Thursday.

He first asked the council whether it intended to establish the interest rate and sell the bonds or pass these matters up to the board to be elected April 9. Decision on the point was necessary to preparation of a resolution at the council meeting next Monday night establishing the rate of interest, and authorizing the clerk to advertise for bids.

Bishop suggested that the rate be made 4 1/2 per cent and the term twenty-five years.

Three Members Absent.

Only three members of the board were present last night. Mayor John G. Mitchell and J. W. Tubbs were absent. Decision on the point was passed over to Friday evening, when the council will meet as a committee on finance to pass on current bills.

A petition asking the council to start condemnation proceedings for opening Garney street, from Tenth street to Washington avenue, and a protest against the opening were filed. Both were referred to the city engineer for checking, and also suggestions as to what property should be included in a district to pay the costs of the proceedings. It was estimated that the signers of the protest represented 625 feet frontage on the proposed street, while the petitioners represented 482 feet.

Application of E. E. Parrish, of Garden Grove, for license to operate a wholesale produce market at 215 North Broadway was referred to the police commissioner.

Request of Mrs. Elizabeth Lambert for license to operate a second hand clothing and furniture store in the 900 block on North English street was referred to the police commissioner. In a written request for the license the applicant stated that she contemplated selling old clothes and furniture to Mexicans at a small margin of profit.

Trend Toward Conservatism is Noted in Men's Hats as Style Shows Few Changes Since 1922

Men's hats for spring showing have undergone but slight changes from the styles shown and worn last spring, although there is an evident tendency toward the conservative type.

The hat problem is a very perplexing one to the woman, because of the rapid and almost overnight change in modes worn, which added to the regular seasonal variations keep them in constant dread to the milliner. Men, on the contrary find but little variation in hats with the exception of the seasonal changes which come not for style but to give the wearer the latest in comfort. With the advent of each season new thoughts for the wearer's comforts are added to those already in vogue until one is prone to wonder when the end will come.

Hats of Extreme Light Weight

The manufacturers have taken the customer into deep concern this spring, and are offering hats of an extreme light weight. This characteristic will prevail in the straws for summer wear as well as in the spring hats. There was a strong tendency in that direction last year, but not until this year has the superb light weightness been so evident and the manufacturers' thoughts been so practical.

Light colors will again lead the field in spring hats. Tans will predominate with pearls, grays and light greens following closely. Bands to correspond will be the prevailing mode.

The shapes are virtually the same as those in vogue last year. The Fedora and Alpine shapes are being shown extensively in the older men's hats, while the young fellows will turn to the diamond-shaped and dented in styles—all these, however, in very light weights. Few odd shapes are being shown, the majority having a medium crown and brim.

Straws More Conservative

Straws for summer wearing are following in the footsteps of all other men's wearing apparel—holding fast to the conservative and less freakish type of a few years ago.

The light sailor is again slated for a big run. These will come in pure whites, light browns and tans. The rough straws and loose weaves in very light weights are being shown very much. For the most part plain black bands or bands to contrast to the color of the hat will be worn with a sprinkling of the colored bands in stripes and dots.

Defer Action.

Request of the League of California Municipalities that the council pass a resolution to the legislature asking that in distribution of receipts from the motor vehicle department, moneys be apportioned one-third to the cities and two-thirds to the counties and state was passed over to the next meeting. The council one week ago passed a resolution favoring apportionment of one-fourth of the receipts to cities.

Request of J. C. Wallace for construction by the city of a curb on Fifteenth street, in front of the Lincoln school property, was taken under advisement, with the understanding that effort would be made to have the board of education pay for the work.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications for paving East Third street, from Grand avenue to McClay street, and Hickey street, from Bristol to King street. The latter will be eighteen feet wide.

Plan Transformer Vaults.

Upon recommendation of City Engineer G. W. Knox, vaults will be erected in the curb at points on West Fourth and West Fifth streets for the installation of transformers necessary for the ornamental lighting systems to be installed on the two streets. They will be placed underground and will be 9x12 feet in size and eight feet deep. This will eliminate poles required for the transformers.

Resolutions were adopted ordering paving on South Garney and West Myrtle streets.

On recommendation of C. H. Chapman, permits were granted for operation of a wholesale produce market on property of the Santa Ana development company adjoining the Grand Central market on North Broadway and on Flower street, between Third and Fourth streets.

SCORES GATHER AT ROBERTSON SERVICES

Scores of friends, in funeral services at the Smith and Tudor hill chapel this afternoon, paid their respects to the late J. G. Robertson, electrical contractor, who took his own life last Friday in Santa Ana canyon.

The high esteem in which Mr. Robertson was held in this community, was evidenced by the large concourse of sympathizing friends and the myriad of pretty floral offerings that banked the bier.

The Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor of the First Methodist church, of which the deceased was an active member and also a member of the official board, reviewed briefly his short relations with Mr. Robertson. His pastor for only a few brief months, the Rev. Mr. Betts said that Mr. Robertson had been exceedingly kind to him and that his advice on many church matters had been invaluable.

Mental Strain Cited

Touching on the congeniality of the dead man and his readiness always to assist in church work, the pastor, by inference, said he could find no explanation for his act other than a temporary breaking down of his mental faculties.

Accompanied by Prof. C. A. Gustlin, Miss Holly Lash sang two of Mr. Robertson's favorite hymns, "Does Jesus Care" and "Abide With Me."

Employees of the J. G. Robertson Electric company, who had learned to love the dead man because of his kindly interest in their personal affairs and his uniform courtesy, tenderly and sorrowfully deposited the remains in their last resting place in Fairhaven cemetery.

Here Are Pallbearers

The active pallbearers were Howard Ryan, F. T. Martin, Elmer E. Christensen, H. C. Newman, W. M. Hart and R. P. Allen. Honorary pallbearers were E. M. Ellis, of the General Electric company, Los Angeles; F. J. Airey, manager of the Pacific States Electric company Los Angeles; C. M. Gilbert, L. R. Stearns, C. M. Trusty, employees; W. O. Packard, city electrician and former partner and employee of Mr. Robertson.

The store of the J. G. Robertson Electric company will open tomorrow and the business will be conducted on the same policy under which it was operated by Mr. Robertson.

Orlyn Robertson, oldest son of the dead merchant, made that announcement today. The business will be operated under the general supervision of the son, with C. M. Gilbert directing the construction department.

To Continue Prompt Service

"The company will continue to give the same prompt and courteous treatment that ruled when my father was in charge of the business," said the son. "All contracts will be executed."

It is said that investigations of the books of the company confirm previous statements that the business was in a flourishing condition, and that so far as financial matters were concerned, there was nothing of a pressing nature to cause the electrical contractor worry that would justify him in taking his own life.

PAY HAIL LOSSES

PIERRE, S. D., March 27.—The supreme court handed down a decision in the case in which farmers of the northwestern part of the state asked a writ of mandamus to compel the state hail insurance department to pay losses sustained in the big hail storm of June 12, last year. The court held the act passed by the legislature in 1921, changing the time hail insurance goes into effect in the northern half of the state from June 1 to June 15 is unconstitutional.

PROGRAM GIVEN AT JR. H. S. DELIGHTS

Feeling that success had indeed crowned their efforts, members of the Girls' Glee club of the junior high school here were today recalling the pleasure they gave a representative audience last night at the assembly room as a number of the school concert course.

Individually and collectively the young people covered themselves with glory. It was declared by all who heard them. Miss Georgia Belle Walton was one of the hits of the evening with her beautiful violin numbers while equally pleasing were the vocal solos offered by Miss Jewell Fletcher.

The school orchestra gave a pleasing prelude as well as other excellent numbers and the Glee club in the "Cavalry Song" and "Moonlit Meadows" was equally well received. A clever Chinese dance by eight members of the Glee club and the amusing little play, "A Case of Suspicion," all added to the evening's interest.

Young Central American Is Student at Santa Ana Junior College

PRAISES U. S. SCHOOLS

Will Acquire Knowledge Of Yankee Methods To Aid Native Country

Did you ever wonder why students from foreign countries come all the way to the United States to go to school? More than that, did you ever try to find out what it is about American schools and commercial institutions that would lead a foreign country to pay all the expenses for four years, of dozens of its brightest boys, that they might go to school here?

That is what Honduras is doing and for these reasons: The future of Central and South America depends on the United States.

The bankers and the business men from the United States are recognized by the natives of these countries as the most practical men.

The Central American longs to be like the Yankee, so—

The government of Honduras sends students to the United States, especially to the Southwest, to study for four years in our schools and in our commercial institutions.

One of these, Julian Baires, is now a student at the Santa Ana Junior college.

Baires came first to Los Angeles and was attending the U. S. C. when he met persons from Tustin who told him of the Junior college here. With the permission of his consul at Los Angeles, Baires came to Santa Ana and enrolled here.

He liked the college so well that he not only finished last year but, after working in a Los Angeles bank all summer, returned to take another year at the Santa Ana Junior college.

"The United States," Baires said, "has a great school system. Rigid formality and unnecessary rules are done away with and the student is given a chance to be himself."

"There is a democratic atmosphere about American schools which is delightful. It gives a freedom of movement and self expression which one never feels in

CURE FOR DIVORCE IS WORK SAY PAIR MARRIED 73 YEARS

MR. AND MRS. JOHN C. DEMAREST

WYCKOFF, N. J., March 27.—"Divorce can be prevented by hard work. The trouble these days is that married folks have things too easy."

That's the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Demarest, married 73 years and still happy. He is 95 and she is 91. He still works his own garden and she does her own washing.

They were married March 2, 1850, raised four children, and have six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. "Getting married wasn't a joke in those days," said Grandpa Demarest. "We rode horseback when we went courting and the boys would race to the girl's house. No telephone then, and no rural mail deliveries."

"Girls didn't think so much about dress," said Grandma Demarest. "I had two dresses a year, one of flax and one of wool, both home-grown and homemade. And one pair of shoes a year. We saved our shoes and didn't put them on until just before we started for church or a dance."

Their wedding day was the first

SCOUT TROOPS 'Y' ATTRACT MANY BOYS

2000 Between Ages of 12 and 21 Are Members of Two Organizations

Of the 6,000 boys in Orange county between the ages of 12 and 21 years, 2,000 have been drawn into membership of the Orange county Y. M. C. A. or the Orange county council, Boy Scouts of America, according to the weekly news letter of Roland E. Dye, county scout executive, issued today.

Boys' work in the county, according to Dye's letter, has not been subject to duplication through the activities of the two organizations. It was determined that not more than 50 boys in the county held membership in both organizations.

That duplication should not arise in future campaigns for boy membership it was resolved at a recent joint conference of the Y. M. C. A. and the Boy Scouts to place the boy according to his qualifications or needs.

To Place Boys.

While no definite policy has been developed, it was the opinion that an effort should be made by both organizations, on receiving the application of a boy, to determine whether his personality and his personal requirements would be best met in one organization or the other and then he be encouraged to belong to that organization where the most good would result for him.

E. E. Campbell of Orange was elected chairman of the joint committee. Other members of the committee are: Willard Smith, M. B. Wellington, T. E. Stephenson, Eugene Grisset, S. M. Davis and George S. Chessum.

A committee composed of George S. Chessum, E. E. Campbell and Roland E. Dye was appointed to attempt to work out a policy to be recommended back to the joint committee at a later date.

Scout Leaders to Meet.

Quarterly scout leader's training day will be held in Orange county Saturday, March 31. It is expected that from 50 to 75 scoutmasters and troop committee men will be present at that conference. Field activities will be taken up and each man learn from experts more of the details of scouting.

Wednesday, March 28, regular monthly meeting of the district court of honor is scheduled to be held in Anaheim. C. C. Smith is chairman of this court of honor.

At the recent meeting of the court of honor for districts 1 and 2, of which R. R. Miller is chairman, second class award was awarded to Bernard Davis, Bernard Miller, Vincent Alton and Anton Hammond of Santa Ana troop 2; Ernest Haynes, Laguna Beach troop 1, and Alva Gedney, Garden Grove. First class badges were awarded to Harold Hall, Tustin, and Russell Hind, Laguna Beach. Merit badges were awarded to Don Wilcox, Laguna Beach, Earl Vinson, Tustin, Dudley Crawford, Tustin, Walter Huntley, Tustin, Charles Ehrhorn, Newport, Weston Jay, Newport, and Robert Lewry, Orange.

WILL CLOSE GARAGE.

TUSTIN, March 27.—F. D. Battle will close his garage on the northwest corner of C and Third streets and leave for Huntington Beach in April where he will open a garage. Mr. Battle's location will be occupied by H. R. Taylor, who will conduct a machine shop, specializing on pumps and tractors.

I finally decided to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now doing my own washing, which I haven't done for several years, and can walk long distances without those dragging pains and weak feelings. CHARTER GIVEN BIG BOOST IN POLY PAPER

Civics Student Explains Why She Favors City Government Change

Light on the proposed city charter was shining for high school students here today, when the following article appeared in The Generator, the weekly school paper.

Under the head of "Vital Political Problems," Miss Ruth Gredis, a senior student who has shown marked excellence in her civics class, is conducting a weekly column in the school paper.

The article was inspired by the fact that there is much difference of opinion both among students and townspeople on the subject of the proposed charter.

Miss Gredis favors the charter and brings out her reasons in the following article:

THE NEW CITY CHARTER

By Ruth Gredis
The present charter of the city of Santa Ana has proved many times to be totally inadequate. There has been a deplorable lack of efficiency, the source of which when investigated could not be found. It is for this reason that the board of freeholders elected by the people of Santa Ana, January 9, 1923, and composed of the most able, broad-minded and representative men of Santa Ana, framed this new charter which calls for the employment of a city manager. The members of the board investigated conditions under every modern form of city government and after long deliberation came to the conclusion that a city government under a city manager is the most efficient and progressive government in existence for cities the size of Santa Ana.

Santa Ana has a population of over 25,000 with a property valuation of $50,000,000. A business manager is necessary to safeguard the interests of the people. The modern city is very similar to a huge corporation.

Employ Experts

Corporations have found it to their advantage to employ business managers or in other words efficiency experts to see that the various departments are at the least possible cost giving the biggest quantity of the best quality work. The California Raisin Growers and the Walnut Growers' Associations are only two of the large corporations employing business managers. The salary of the average city manager for a town the size of Santa Ana is $6,000 per year. This man will be appointed by the city council, which will consist of nine men elected by the people of Santa Ana. The city council under the new charter retains all the powers it enjoys under the present one.

(Miss Gredis here sets forth the powers of the city manager as prescribed in the charter.)

Must File Report

The city manager is required to file with the council each month a comprehensive, general and financial report of the affairs, business and condition of the city, setting forth such detail as may be required by the council.

In the event of the least sign of inefficiency the council is privileged to discharge the city manager. There is no possibility of neglect or work by city officials under the plan. The manager, to retain his job, will see that every detail is given proper attention.

There is another provision in the new city charter that marks a step in the reform of the recall. It provides that the recall petition must be posted in three public places instead of being circulated. This makes the recall more just. It requires that in the event of the people desiring to recall an officer from his position a petition protesting the recall of the officer sought to be removed must be posted side by side with the recall petition. Unless the number of signatures upon the recall petition shall exceed the number upon the protest, then no election for the recall of the officer shall be had.

The new charter will not increase taxes. The whole position of the city manager rests upon his ability to run the city on the funds provided under the present system. However, citizens are reminded it is not so much what you pay that counts but the value received for the money.

Under the new plan Santa Ana is assured a cheaper, more efficient and progressive government than has ever before been enjoyed.

How Money Will be Spent
The fact that the new city charter does not increase the tax rate is comparatively little known. Owing to the importance of this a special article is here given on the subject. Under Article XXII, entitled "Revenue and Taxation," Sections 4 and 5 dealing with general and special levies, is stated:

"For all general purposes there may be annually levied and collected a general tax not exceeding $1.00 upon each one hundred dollars of assessed valuation. The moneys derived from any such tax when collected shall be deposited in such proportions as the council from time to time may determine, in the general fund, the salary fund, street fund and sewer fund, all of which funds are hereby created in the treasury of the city of Santa Ana."

In addition to the general tax of $1.00 on each one hundred dollars

The concert will be given here through arrangement with E. L. Behymer, well known impresario of Los Angeles.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Americans have the worst manners in the world. They cough in your face, they chew gum in public, they push, they jostle, they fight for the only vacant seat in a street car, they shove you away from the ticket office, they nearly knock you down and never raise their hats.

So says Gertrude Atherton, noted woman novelist.

"I have traveled all over Europe and America," she explains, "and take my word for it, Americans have the worst manners in the world. They have arrogance but no pride. They personify the Declaration of Independence gone wild."

"Men come to dinner in their shirt sleeves and women cut each other in public. College students ignore the faculty and young men refuse to dance with their hostesses. The steel magnate outrages the feeling of the office boy and the office boy passes on the insult."

Grasp Fork by Prongs
"The man who has spanned a continent with railroad grasps his fork damn by the prongs and the young poetess with a volume of free verse on the press embarrasses the counter. 'Aw, where d'ya get that line' when someone hands her a complaint."

REBUILDING OF FIFTH STREET PAVING HELD NECESSARY BY DELHI

Roads Chief Declares City Taxpayers Should Help Pay Cost of Work

ISSUE PASSAGE URGED

New Equipment Needed By Department Outlined; To Vote Thursday

Declaring that residents of West Fifth street are still paying for the pavement on that street, which was done under an improvement act, Edward Dahl, city street superintendent, today asserted his belief that an obligation of paying a portion of the costs of the rebuilding of the street rests upon all the taxpayers in the city of Santa Ana.

Pointing out that the pavement has been wrecked by heavy traffic on the street, Dahl said that it is the main artery into the city from the west and should not be permitted to continue longer in its present deplorable condition.

He pointed out further that business houses of Santa Ana receive a big trade volume from residents west of the river, and that, therefore, it should be made convenient for these merchandise purchasers to get into the city.

Decide Issue Thursday
In the issues coming up at Thursday's special bond election, the city council has proposed an issue for $30,000 to pay one-third the costs of rebuilding the pavement. By doing so the council has taken the position that part of the paving cost should be taken care of by the taxpayers of the city.

Plans for the street include the laying of pavement full width of the street from Baker street to a point near the P. E. crossing on Fifth street. From that point to the city limits the pavement will be twenty feet wide. A double culvert will supplant the small bridge near the tracks.

Improvement of the street in the section indicated is imperative," Dahl said. "In its present condition it is a disgrace to the city, and it certainly does not make a good impression on strangers who come to Santa Ana on the street. It gives the idea that Santa Ana is not progressive."

Need Street Equipment.
Another issue in which the street department is directly concerned is one for $15,000 to provide street

THE WINDS OF DEATH

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Vendetta begins between MICHAEL SAYERS, noted criminal, and SIR NORMAN GREYES, once of Scotland Yard, when Sayers' beautiful housemaid, JANET, saves him from Sir Norman by shooting dead an officer sent to arrest him. Janet becomes Sayers' wife and accomplice. While Sir Norman is living at his country house the plot is set on foot to help run to earth a criminal whom they believe to be at the head of a dangerous gang.

On his way to London, Greys' car is stopped and he is shot through the shoulder. Janet receives money and jewels from a mysterious source. Greys asks Janet to dine with him. Janet accepts. She later visits Michael, who is faking illness in a nursing home.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

Janet continues. She closed the door and I advanced toward the bedside, only to step back with a little exclamation. I thought that there must be some mistake. The man who sat up in bed, watching me seemed at first sight a stranger. His hair, which had been dark, was now of a sandy gray, and he wore a short, stubble mustache of the same color. His cheeks had fallen in; his forehead seemed more prominent; there was an unfamiliar scar on the left side of his face.

"Michael!" I exclaimed incredulously. "Capital!" he replied. "You see no resemblance to Mr. James Stanfield?"

"Not the slightest," I assured him. "The whole thing is wonderful. But what is the matter with you?"

"Nothing," was the impatient rejoinder. "I have had to starve myself to get thin. I took the place and the name of a business acquaintance on the boat. It was quite a smart piece of work. I am supposed to be suffering from a nervous breakdown. Bosh! I haven't a nerve in my body."

"You left me alone for a long time," I reminded him. "I was fighting for my life," he answered grimly. "You don't know the inner workings of the game, so I can't explain. I was hemmed in. As soon as I broke away, they were never on me again. I brought off the coup of my life in New York, but—things went wrong. Janet, you know what that means."

"You killed some one?" I whispered. "I had no intention of doing anything of the sort," he answered. "It was Hartley, the banker, himself. He forced me into a fight at close quarters. We exchanged shots. I was wounded. So was he. He was in miserable health, though, and he never recovered. The shock killed him as much as anything. I got away all right, but it means all or nothing for the future."

"If you have enough," I suggested, "why not try the other end of the world?"

"I have thought of everywhere," he answered, "of Indo-China, the South Sea Islands, New Guinea, the far South American states. They are all hopeless. The eyes follow. There is safety only under the shadow of the arm."

"What about our meeting?" I asked. "I am known," he replied. "It is a problem to be solved," he said slowly. "There is risk in it; yet the thought of parting with you, Janet, is like a clutching hand laid upon my heart."

It was the first word of the sort he had ever spoken to me, and again for some reason I lived. "What is your need of me now?" I demanded.

"To get rid of Norman Greys," he replied. There was a silence during which I felt that he was studying my face, and although I do not believe that a muscle twitched or that my eyes lost their steady light, I was thankful for the darkened room.

"I have figured it all out," he went on. "I am safe here, safe except for one man. Even as I am now, he would recognize me. The moment I move, and there are big things to be done here, I shall feel him on my trail. It is his life or mine."

"Why do you think that I can do this?" I asked. "Because, although he does not know it, Norman Greys feels your attraction. He is too strong a man to succumb, but he can never resist dallying with it, because it provides him with something new in life. You suggest to him a sensation which he obtains nowhere else. I know men like a book, Janet, and I have seen these things."

"Do you know women, too?" I ventured. "Sufficiently," he answered. "How do you propose that I should do this?" I asked.

"Norman Greys," he said, "is one of those men whom it is hard to kill. A fool walks to his death. Norman Greys wears the aura of defiance. They have tried during the last few weeks. One of the finest marksmen in England missed him with a rifle at a hundred yards. He is a reckless motorist; yet he drove a car with safety when the steering-wheel collapsed. Nevertheless, if he had stayed in Devonshire, we should have had him. They tell me that he is in London."

"He is within a few yards of this spot," I announced. "I am dining with him tonight."

For a moment his eyes flashed at me like steel caught in the sunlight. "I met him at the corner of the street this morning," I explained. "I ask no question," was the cold reply. "I shall know if you are ever faithful. . . . A little present for you, Janet."

He brought his hand from under the pillow and handed me an exquisitely chased gold box, a curio of strange shape and with small enamel figures inside. I exclaimed with delight. He touched the spring. It was filled with white powder, on the top of which reposed a tiny powder-puff.

"Be careful not to let any of the powder get near your mouth," he enjoined. "A pinch upon the food or in the glass is sufficient. Take it."

I dropped it into the silk bag I was carrying. I was trying to tell myself that I had killed a man before.

"That half-ounce cost me one hundred pounds," he said. "Men scour the world for it. You can handle the powder freely. There is no danger until it gets into the system."

"And then?"

"It makes a helpless invalid of the strongest for at least two years."

Norman Greys continues: I have come to the conclusion that in future I shall do well to avoid Janet Stanfield. As the cold, mechanical assistant of a master of crime she interested me. I have even devoted a chapter of my forthcoming book to an analysis of her character. I am beginning to realize now, however, that even the hardest and cruellest woman cannot escape from the tendencies of her sex. In all the duels I have previously had with her, she had carried herself with cold and decorous assurance. There has never been a moment when her eyes have been averted from me.

She has been a real feeling in her eyes. Last night, however, a different woman dined with me. She was more beautiful than I had ever imagined her, by reason of the slight flush that came and went in her cheeks. Her eyes seemed to have increased in size and to flash with a softer brilliance. We sat at a corner table against the wall at Soto's, where the room was, as usual, filled with beautiful women. There was no one who attracted so much attention as my companion. There was no one who deserved it.

"You think I am looking well?" she asked, in reply to some observation of mine. "Wonderfully," I replied. "Also, if I may be allowed to comment upon it, changed. You look as though you had found some new interest in life."

She laughed a little bitterly. "Where should I seek it?" she asked. "Perhaps the change is internal," I suggested. "Perhaps your outlook upon life is changing. Perhaps you have made up your mind to put away the false gods."

"I have traveled too far along one road," she answered harshly. "It was of this state in our conversation that I made up my mind that it were better for me to see this woman no more. Our eyes met, and she suddenly was not hard at all, and there were things there which I could not understand. I was thankful that the dancing began just then. It helped us over a curious gulf of silence."

Janet danced with little knowledge of the steps, but with a wonderful sense of rhythm. I was ashamed of the pleasure it gave me to realize, as we moved away to the music, that this woman of steel had a very soft and human body.

Janet was certainly in a strange and nervous state that evening. We danced for some time without resting. Then she suddenly turned back to the table. I had paused for a moment to speak to some acquaintances. When I rejoined her, she was pale, and the hand which was holding her little gold powder-box was shaking.

"Has anything happened?" I asked her, a little concerned. "Are you not feeling well? Perhaps the dancing—"

"I loved it," she interrupted. "I am quite well."

Yet she sat there, tense and speechless. I made up my mind to finish my coffee and go. I had raised the cup to my lips, even when she suddenly swayed across the table, knocking my arm with her elbow. My coffee was spilled, and the tablecloth was ruined. Janet began to laugh. For a moment she seemed to have a fit of breathlessness. Then, as she watched the cloth being changed, she became herself again. She had the air of one who had met a crisis and conquered it.

"I am sorry for my clumsiness," she said penitently. "Let us dance again while they rearrange the table."

This time her feet moved less airily to the music. She seemed heavier in my arms.

"Who gave you that beautiful gold powder-box?" I inquired, more for the sake of making conversation than from any actual curiosity.

"Santa," she acknowledged. "I have made up my mind, however, to send it back."

"Boxes of Gold," seventh story of this remarkable series, will begin in our next issue.

own overture.

"I am delighted with the privilege and will go to Los Angeles April 11, to spend the morning rehearsing with the orchestra," said Mustel.

Tells Story of Overture. More than that, Mustel is all wrapped up in his own number, the story of which is his own and his comments indicated that he is anxious to bring out the spirit of his composition.

The setting of the story of Mustel's overture is in California in the early mission days. The overture opens with the early morning and the rising of the sun and climbs in volume of sound and speed to a climax which is the sunlight flooding the valleys. Through the entire number there runs the theme of an Indian song and snatches of typically Indian music are heard throughout.

The playing of the local artist's number has already been scheduled on the evening program of the Philharmonic orchestra's concert here and efforts are now being made, which it is expected will be successful, to get the number on the matinee program, when the orchestra plays for the high school students.

Students Interested. High school students are displaying keen interest even at this early date, it is said, in the coming of the orchestra and the announcement of the matinee program has already brought forth pleased comment from the students and teachers at the school.

The high school program follows: Tchaikowsky, "Cases Noisette" (Nut Cracker Suite Op. 71a); (1)

200 PEOPLE FORGET DEPOSITS IN BANKS

LOS ANGELES, March 26.—Annual bank reports of Los Angeles show that about 200 have deposited money in local banks and have then completely forgotten about it. Efforts to locate them frequently prove futile.

As nearly as can be estimated there is about $250,000 in these inactive accounts in Los Angeles banks. The average amount per absent-minded depositor is about $10, though in one instance the figure runs to $500.

Sometimes the banks find the depositor has died. More often, it is found, women deposit their money, under their maiden name, then after they have married, fall to recognize the old name advertised.

"It is true that there is profound scholastic effort in our schools but there is too much attention to the classics and not enough to the practical things. My country realizes this now. My people have been writing poetry and reading the classics, steeped in the schoolasticism, while the foreigners have been coming in to develop and run our country."

Baltes, and others like him are here to learn the practical things which can enable them to help in the affairs of their own country, as efficiently as the foreigner will do it for them.

"Schools here give their students a broad point of view," Baltes declared. "We come here to learn to be practical."

"I feel that I am getting greater advantages in the local junior college than if I were in a larger city. I enjoy my work and am learning much every day."

I want to express my appreciation of the friendliness of Santa Ana. It is a fine city and its people are more than good. I like them and have felt the friendly atmosphere of the city ever since I came."

In discussing the vital importance of the part played in Central American affairs by men from the United States, Baltes pointed out that the people of Central America look to the United States for advice along all lines.

Blow Smoke in Face. "A man may be a good provider and a pillar in the church but what woman is going to regard him with tolerance when he talks to her with his hat on and blows smoke in her face?"

"Many a man of refinement has thought longingly of oblivion when he perceived his wife taking soup from the end of the spoon and many a good woman's love has been killed because her husband couldn't learn to stand up when his mother-in-law came into the room."

"Selfishness and unfair corporate influences will ruin us and American chances there. The reverse of that policy will develop and enrich us and vastly repay the United States."

Baltes' father, for a number of years, has been prominent in governmental affairs in Honduras. He served both as a senator and as a deputy. He is now in Santa Ana as an instructor in Spanish at the junior high school at night. He also conducts a class several nights a week at the Orange County Trust and Savings bank.

equipment.

The additional equipment to be purchased consists of a motor street sweeper, motor truck, motor grader and a dump wagon.

According to Dahl, the department is seriously handicapped in its work by the lack of this equipment.

Dahl said that 1,575,276 square feet of pavement has been constructed since the sweeper now in use was purchased. In addition, 1,086,561 square feet of work has been ordered or approved by the council. The one sweeper, according to Dahl, cannot clean all of the present paved streets, to say nothing of the new work to be done under petitions on which action has already been taken. There is every probability that paving done before the end of the year will be in excess of that done in the past year, Dahl declared.

Without the Right Fire Protection

And these concerns give employment to over 2000 people. Estimating, conservatively, three members of the family to each employee, over 6000 residents of Santa Ana are DIRECTLY interested in better fire protection, to say nothing of the many homes and other buildings in the far east and west sides of the city.

When any city has a fire alarm system that fire underwriters have declared to be entirely inadequate and untrustworthy, it is time to get rid of that old system and put in one that is satisfactory.

Whenever firemen are going to a fire, every second counts. Oftentimes the difference between stopping a fire and not stopping it, is a matter of seconds. That alone warrants the establishment of fire engine houses in the eastern and western parts of the city.

A disastrous fire in one of these industrial plants not only means property loss but it means that men and women may be thrown out of employment for a definite period.

And there are many other reasons, too numerous to mention, why the people of Santa Ana should vote to supply the money sought in these proposals next Thursday, March 29.

The Propositions on the Ballot

No. 1 on the ballot proposes $150,000 to complete the municipal water works.

No. 2 proposes $25,000 bonds for raising money with which to give Santa Ana a dependable, up-to-date fire alarm system.

No. 3 proposes $12,500 for a fire engine house in the eastern part of the city.

No. 4 proposes $12,500 bonds with which to build a fire engine house in the western part of the city.

No. 6 is a proposal for $25,000 bonds for purchase of needed fire fighting apparatus, including an ample supply of fire hose.

Will Decrease Fire Insurance Rates

Assuredly, the passage of these proposals will give the fire department an opportunity to decrease fire hazards. And when fire underwriters find that fire hazards have been materially decreased, rates are lowered. So, when we talk about ways and means of lessening fire hazards we are talking dollars and cents.

Every owner of a building in Santa Ana is interested in betterment of fire protection because fire, to him, means individual loss. Elimination of hazards means a saving in fire insurance rates and it means a decrease in the probabilities of individual losses in cases of fire.

ORANGE COUNTY NEWS

Professional Critic Lauds Production of "Mikado" By Students

The following criticism of "The Mikado," given at Huntington Beach recently by students of the high school, under the direction of Miss Ruth Meyer, was written by Major C. H. Harter, for several years dramatic critic of the New York Mirror, a large theatrical paper. At the present time Major Harter is engaged in writing a city folder for Huntington Beach under the direction of the mayor and board of trustees. Major Harter was publicity man for the Shuberts for many years and managed Shubert houses in Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo. He came to Huntington Beach last May and for about five months was assistant secretary of the chamber of commerce. Major Harter is now chief clerk at the Huntington Inn.

Thursday and Friday evenings, of last week at the high school auditorium, the music department of the Huntington Beach high school presented Gilbert and Sullivan's masterpiece, "The Mikado," under the personal direction of Miss Ruth Meyer of the school faculty, and from a musical and dramatic standpoint, was, to speak professionally, a "knockout."

The writer has produced this comic opera many times, with some of the best companies in stock and on the road and in his opinion, the cast, gotten together and directed by Miss Meyer, gave a presentation of this tuneful opera seldom equaled, and never excelled, by any amateur company within his remembrance.

Lack of space and time does not permit a detailed description of the performance, but the writer cannot refrain from herewith giving a mead of praise to the company, as a whole, and several of the performers, in particular.

Firstly, the men's chorus deserves great credit for their harmony and rendition of the very difficult numbers that they presented, and those sweet, chic and wonderful "ladies of the chorus" were so sweet voiced and so garbed that one was almost sure that they were geisha girls from old Japan.

The ensemble of the entire chorus and their splendid work throughout the play, showed that they had been trained "to the minute" by their more than clever director and that they had responded nobly to her efforts.

Now for the principals. "The Mikado" of Japan, by Dick Lyttle, was portrayed with great dignity, and a powerful bass voice, helped him to put himself in the spotlight. He was assisted greatly in his work by his factotum, Ernest Dalany, who was one of the laughing hits of the offering.

In Nanki-Poo, John Soden, contributed his share of the work, and received his share of applause showing considerable histrionic ability, and a splendid tenor voice. Earl Sullivan, as "Ko-Ko, the Lord High Executioner of Titipu," was very good, as was also Mr. Virgil Elliott, as "Fish-Tush," a noble lord.

The writer, by reason of the fact that he has seen many of the best "Pooch-Babs" in the ranks of professionals, is of the opinion that Glen Turner, is, if he so chooses, about ready to step from the amateur class to the professional class. He was in splendid voice, and his acting was superb, and his comedy got him many laughs, which he merited.

"The Three Little Maids From Yum-Yum," Misses Opal Dowty as "Yum-Yum," Katheryn Thomas, as "Pitt-Sing," and Dorothy Mayhew, as "Peep-Bo," played their parts with vim and cleverness and showed careful training.

The piece de resistance, in the "Opera" was most certainly Edith Colburn, as "Katisha," the maiden lady in love with "Nanki-Poo." Her splendid stage presence, superb acting, and wonderful mezzo-soprano voice, of great sweetness and volume, place her far and away from amateurs, as she was nearly a professional, as perhaps the ever will be. Her great beauty was somewhat hidden, by a gray wig, and artificial face lines of the stage, but her charm, manner and voice, stood out most prominent, among her stagemates, and she should be seen and heard, to be appreciated.

Now, for the master mind, that produced and directed, this wonderful production, Miss Ruth Meyer. As the writer remarked to her after the show, "You know your stuff" Miss Meyer. She certainly is, without doubt, a young lady of great musical talent, with a large personality, which she seems to infuse into all who are near pupils. She held the entire company of players of "The Mikado" in the hollow of her hand, directing, promoting, and managing the principal and chorus, as a unit. The high school orchestra was in evidence, ably conducted by Miss Frances Douhit.

TUSTIN, March 27.—A dinner in honor of G. H. Spicer's forty-ninth birthday anniversary was given by his wife at the Spicer home on Second street Sunday noon to several friends and several old friends and boyhood companions of Mr. Spicer. The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Blaylock and family, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Noe and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frances Noe and family, all of Santa Ana.

Mrs. Shrewsbury and daughter of Los Angeles were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Daneri Sunday.

BREA, March 27.—The candidacy of G. W. Finch for membership on the Fullerton union high school board was endorsed at a meeting voters here last night. Finch is opposed by W. T. Travers seeking re-election.

It was the sense of a resolution adopted that unless the Fullerton union high school district is to be plunged into an "orgy of waste" that drastic steps must be taken at once to bring about a change in the board and the school administration. Speakers declared that the election of Finch would do much to rescue the system from chaos and threatened ruin.

Figures were produced to refute those given Sunday night by Rev. C. R. Montague, a Fullerton pastor, who declared that the per capita cost of educating a pupil in the Fullerton union high school this year was $240, representing an expenditure by the board of about $240,000.

Figures, which speakers claimed they had secured from official sources at the courthouse, were read indicating that the total expenditure was nearly $627,000 this year and over $400,000 last year. The campaign continues today and is increasing in warmth.

GIRLS THINK THEY HEAR OUEER NOISES
IN DEAD OF NIGHT

ORANGE, March 27.—Awakened by unusual noises, which they believed were caused by a midnight prowler, the Misses Ruth and Leta Parker, residing at 307 West Palmyra avenue, gave an alarm that brought other occupants of the apartment house where they reside hurriedly to the scene early yesterday morning.

The girls in a high state of excitement, awoke occupants of the apartment house about two o'clock yesterday morning. They declared that they had been awakened by unusual noises which they believed were caused by prowlers who might have been attempting to break into their apartment. They did not catch a glimpse of anyone, however, and an investigation disclosed that nothing had been molested.

Other occupants of the apartment declared their belief that the disturbance might have been caused by rats, which on other occasions are said to have disturbed the quiet of the place.

TUSTIN CHAMBERS TO MEET THERE

TUSTIN, March 27.—The Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county will be invited to hold the next meeting in Tustin by S. W. Stanley, secretary of the Tustin chamber of commerce, who will appear at the Santa Ana meeting tomorrow night and present the invitation. The decision to ask the chambers to meet in Tustin was made at the meeting of the local chamber in the high school auditorium last night.

Will Re-Name Streets.
A number of the streets in Tustin which correspond in direction to Santa Ana streets will be renamed to conform with the streets in Santa Ana, it was decided. Several new streets in subdivisions will be named, and a committee was appointed to pick new names for several streets, including A. B. C. D and E. Glenn avenue will be known hereafter as South Tustin avenue.

All of the streets will be marked with appropriate signs, enough from posts being on hand to complete the work.

No action was taken on the matter of streets lights. That subject and another one, said to be of extreme interest to the residents of Tustin but which has not been announced, will be taken up at the next meeting to be held April 23.

The next meeting of the Tustin farm bureau will be held in the high school auditorium April 6. It was announced by President D. W. Tubbs. Mr. Wayne of Anaheim will be present and speak on soil analysis and give a resume of the farm bureau's activities in Anaheim.

RUBE DANIEL HELD AT TUSTIN BY STUDENTS

TUSTIN, March 27.—Clarence Bowman was awarded the first prize for the boys and Cottida Rutledge first prize for the girls at the annual "rube dan" celebration yesterday of the high school students. Clarence Trickey and Elizabeth Palmer were awarded second prizes, respectively.

The entire school attended classes in "Take get-up" and some of the teachers also appeared as back woods country folk. The classes were very happy the entire day. At 12:30 o'clock an assembly was called and the prizes awarded. Principal J. W. Means, assisted by the entire faculty, acted as judges. Pictures were taken after school for the school annual and the Santa Ana Register.

OLD CROOKED TREE AT LAGUNA BEACH FINDS TRUE FRIEND

By PRISCILLA EVANS
LAGUNA BEACH, March 27.—The old eucalyptus that has stood, bent and wind-driven, for so many years, on the bluff overlooking the sea at Arch Beach, is the last survivor of a grove which, many years ago grew along the shore.

The other trees have long since disappeared, leaving this sole reminder of their one time occupancy of the ocean front.

In 1887, while the grove was still flourishing, a man named Stone built a cottage among the trees and spent his summers there.

In 1896 the cottage was moved to a lot on the hill near the post office in the village of Laguna, it lingered there until 1922 when it was once more moved, this time to a site on the school house road.

The tree, which has been known variously as the Crooked Tree; the Ostrich Tree and the Bent Tree, has had a long, hard struggle for life on the rocky, barren, wind-blown cliff and is bent and twisted by the sea winds and stunted by the lack of nutriment in the soil.

For years it has been a landmark and has been a favorite subject of the artists, who have painted it from all angles, at all hours of the day and in every sort of weather.

Sometimes it is shown against a gray and stormy sea and sky; again the sea background is serene and blue and soft white clouds float in the sky, or it is silhouetted, malformed and sinister, against the brilliant colors of sunset.

It has been photographed by every professional and amateur camera enthusiast who has visited Laguna.

It has figured in a number of motion pictures, the most recent, "Forget-me-not," filmed by Metro, with an all star cast, which was shown at the local playhouse a short time ago.

But now the old tree's years of strife are passed, a new era has commenced for it.

Last year Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Barnhart, of Hollywood, purchased the property where the tree stands and one of the first things they did was to cultivate and fertilize the ground around the tree.

Since the winter rains new shoots have grown up around the base of the old trunk.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart are building a very attractive summer home on the property and will move into it as soon as it is ready for occupancy.

A rumor was started in Laguna that the old tree was going to be cut down and Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart were deluged with pleas for its life, and they were kept busy assuring people that they had no intention of destroying the aged landmark.

They have named their place after the tree, "El Arbolito" or "Pet Tree."

Possibly, now that it is cared for and protected from the sea breezes by the house, it will grow from a grotesque to a thing of beauty.

ORANGE, March 27.—The famous play "Way Down East" will be given in the Orange union high school auditorium, beginning at 9 o'clock promptly, Thursday night, April 29, by the Orange community players for the benefit of the pipe organ fund of the school. Frederick L. Carrier, who will play the part of Squire Bartlett, will direct. There are four acts in the play.

The players have been rehearsing the play for several months and are said to be better perfect. The cast is as follows: Anna Moore, Betty Zirkovsky; Squire Bartlett, F. L. Carrier; Mrs. Louisa Bartlett, Percy Beardsley; David Bartlett, Percy Everett; Kate Brewster, Clara Koth; Professor Sterling, Malcolm Kilgore; Hi Holler, Edward Fields; Len Sanderson, V. Christensen; Martha Perkins, Miss N. Linden; Seth Holcomb, Jules Schaffer; Rube Whipple, Albert Underlick; Dr. Wiggins, Waldo Garrell.

BEANGROWERS NOT TO PLANT REPORT

TUSTIN, March 27.—Prominent bean growers on the Irvine ranch will withhold planting beans unless a rain comes soon, it was indicated today after several of them had been interviewed. Desert winds are rapidly drying out the ground, they say, which is already very dry. A few ranchers, where irrigation is available, will, however, plant beans. J. F. Cooper, who returned from San Diego, declared that the bean growers prospects there are bright for a good crop. Eleven inches of rain has fallen there and the ground is in good condition.

PARK BONDS SHOULD CARRY

Thursday of this week, for the first time in the history of Santa Ana, bonds for city parks are to be voted upon.

It seems incredible that Santa Ana should have gone so many years without taking steps toward securing additional parks. Birch park, the only park we have that is bigger than a postage stamp, occupies but one block. We have never had the foresight to acquire property, and year after year has gone by and property once available at little or no cost to the city has jumped in price and been built upon. In saying that property has been available at "no cost" to the city, we speak advisedly, for some dozen years ago a block on Cubbon street was rejected because it carried a provision for sidewalk and curbing it.

But whatever our negligence has been in the past, it is time for us to make a beginning, and the opportunity to begin is offered in the last two items appearing on the ballot to be used at Thursday's election. These items provide, one for $15,000 for the purchase of property in the south end of the city and one for $15,000 for the purchase of property in the north end of the city.

These items were put on the ballot at the earnest request of women's organizations of this city, and for that reason leaders among the women are urging women voters to go to the polls Thursday to see to it that the proposals are given the necessary two-thirds votes to carry.

The men of the city are as much interested in civic affairs as are the women, and the vote for the parks bonds ought to be as decisive from one sex as the other.

They're said to be "raising children with yeast" in an orphanage at Athens. Those kids certainly ought to be well bred.

NOISELESS STREET CARS

Noiseless street cars are to be installed in the Twin Cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The Rapid Transit company has been experimenting in its shops with roller-bearing car trucks, which are said to have responded satisfactorily to all tests. The regular cars are to be fitted out shortly. The new bearings according to an official of the line make the cars almost as noiseless as an eight-cylinder automobile, remove friction from truck shafts and save a high percentage of power in operation. The cars also can be started and stopped more quickly than the ordinary type.

It sounds almost too good to be true, but the Twin Cities experiment will be watched eagerly by a far greater audience than merely the traction interests of the country. Now if some transportation wizard will just find a way to eliminate flat wheels, bad tracks and grinding brakes, one of the noisiest of our noisy nuisances will be well under control.

After that invention of a four-legged motor car that runs like a horse, all that remains is to put a horse on roller skates.

EIGHTY-FIVE FOR WAR

The expensiveness of war, compared with the peaceful activities of government, is an old story, but new evidence always brings a shock of surprise. So the shock is felt as usual when Herbert D. Brown, head of the Bureau of Efficiency at Washington, reports that our government is now spending 85 cents out of every dollar for wars, past and future, and 15 cents for all of its widespread, elaborate, useful civil work.

With the war expenditures are reckoned the interest on the war debt, pensions, rehabilitation cost and current army and navy expenditure.

Perhaps the ends gained by the various wars now being paid for are worth, or will be hereafter, all they cost. Yet the contrast is so great that one wonders naturally whether it is not possible to lessen the gap between the two forms of expenditure. Also whether insurance against expensive future wars may not be obtained at smaller cost by devoting to the financing of organized effort in behalf of international peace some of the big sums now paid for armaments.

PROGRESS IN INDIA

India is rousing from the lethargy of centuries. Public improvements are proposed in that land of retarded development which will involve the expenditure of at least a billion dollars.

The Madras Presidency has plans afoot for irrigation canals and other public works running into many millions. Bombay wants to spend more than $60,000,000 on irrigation alone, besides continuing the development of the port and pushing the new schools called for under the compulsory education act. The Under-Provinces have far-reaching plans for irrigation, forestry and other enterprises. The Punjab is right in line with its plans for hydro-electric systems, roads and like improvements.

An India of clean water supplies, good roads, modern educational systems and public utilities, planning to overcome its ancient squalor and the endless menace of drought and famine, is one of the most amazing evidences of an awakening world. Its plans for the immediate future prove how civilization as a whole progresses steadily onward and upward in spite of grievous setbacks here and there.

The world does move. Reports from Georgia about this time of year used to say that the peach crop was ruined. Now they merely say the farmers are all burning smudges in an effort to save it.

THE GREAT OIL CONSPIRACY

Former Secretary of the Interior Fall speaks of "a gigantic movement, international in its nature, and carried on with the assistance of certain foreign governments, to exhaust the oil supplies of the United States while denying our explorers the right to prospect for oil elsewhere."

As he sees it, the scheme is to set up a great oil monopoly in which Americans shall have no part. "It is a trust plan modeled on the original plan of the Standard Oil company, but increased to world magnitude. It is being carried out more ruthlessly than any operation of the Standard Oil company, and is aimed directly at the United States."

Thus America is to be placed "under tribute to the rest of the world."

Possibly Mr. Fall is right about it. Yet, granting that known facts may be interpreted in this way, a calm observer is bound to say that there is possible a more charitable and less alarming view.

There may be a considerable amount of self-defense in the recent scramble of the British, French and others for an oil supply of their own. They may have decided that they were tired of domination by our Standard Oil company, as they have been heretofore, and naturally enough sought to turn the tables. Even Americans have sometimes been known to grow restive under that domination.

At the same time, it is well for America to keep an eye on the situation and assert its rights where they are interfered with, because the United States is and will continue to be the chief oil consumer in the world, and its own oil supplies are not exhaustless.

As Herr Stinnes remarks, "the situation in the Ruhr does not call for talk." It calls for money, and the money will do the talking.

Learning a Cop's Job

Fresno Republican.

A mayor in Texas, in order to prove his claim that the traffic officers were not overworked by 45-minute stunts at street corners in Texas weather, took a two-hour turn himself. "It wasn't pleasant," he concluded, "but it was not as bad as a good many other jobs that the policemen might be called on to perform."

Whether this was a fair test, no one can say but the man who has had to endure Texas weather. In general we can be suspicious of the man who in a burst of enthusiasm tries another man's job for an hour or a day and finds it fun. Occasionally a "boss" sits in for the hired man, just to show what play work is. The real boss, who has the respect of his men, is the employer who isn't afraid at any time, to sit in, just as a part of the day's work, and do the same work he requires of his men. He probably will not do it all the time, because he has more important work to do to further the business. But at least he shows, by his frequent cooperation, that he shares the feelings of his men and is not just "showing off."

But there is another side to this little stunt of the Texas mayor.

Wouldn't it be a fine thing for each of us, as citizens of a town, if we could gather a little experience as traffic officers—fine that is for us, if not for the traffic?

Wouldn't we be the gainers if we could stand in the intersections of these streets, which as drivers we pass by so often, and look at the traffic from the angle the traffic man gets?

Wouldn't we have more respect for the laws about speeding past intersections, and turning the wrong way?

Wouldn't we know more about road hogs, and how to suppress them?

Would we have more sympathy for the other fellow if we could be removed from the road, and yet be put in a responsible relation toward controlling the road?

Too bad it can't be tried out!

Service Till Death

San Diego Union.

An inanimate hulk, sturdily built, steel-armored and powerful, came to destruction the other day in the bay of Panama, and as she sank to the bottom gave the world yet another illustration of the tragedy of the obsolete—mingled with the lasting dignity of service. "The old order passeth, giving place to new," that's the tragedy of it. But in passing, the old battleship Iowa rendered a final service to the great ships and powerful navies of the new navy. There was a kind of pitiful dignity about it, and the guns of other ships roared out a last salute and the band played the national anthem.

The passing of the Iowa provoked real emotion, though the ship itself was nothing but a great mechanical device, though she went down without firing a gun at her "enemies" and though there were no men aboard her sharing her fate. The men had left her, but her fighting tops were clustered thick with memories. Manoeuvred by radio, she sailed with the appearance of stubborn and heroic design undismayed by the merciless fire from guns heavier than any she had ever carried. Thanks to modern inventive skill, she preserved to the very last an aspect of life.

The Iowa rendered service to the new navy by furnishing on her last run, a realistic war-time target for the big guns. Her service did not end there, however, but will continue as long as memories of the old navy of Spanish-American war days remain. She will continue to serve the new navy by her lasting aid in preserving the fine tradition of service to the end.

Interests in Mexican Oil

Telegram.

The very life of nations now depends on petroleum. Outside of the United States the greater part of the petroleum supply is in countries whose people cannot develop this resource, they being disinclined, unequipped and untrained for such enterprises. The result is that these oil properties are being held for sale by the nations possessed of them. As to Mexico, whose oil is now vital to the industrial life of our country, it may be said that her oil has already been sold.

The petroleum industry in Mexico is valued at $1,050,532,434 as of March 10, 1923. Of this property Americans now own $606,043,239, or 57.7 per cent. British capital owns $354,776,199, or 33.8 per cent; Holland, $71,197,308, or 6.7 per cent; Mexico, $11,582,405, or 1.1 per cent, and France, Spain, Cuba and Norway the remainder, $6,933,283, or 0.7 per cent.

It is in the power of Mexico to help or hinder the use of these wells, but so long as they are furnishing revenue to the government it is fairly safe to believe that Mexico, while its government is stable, will see that they are used so as to yield the greatest revenue. While studying the struggle of nations for oil in other lands, it is well to know to what extent our own country is going out for oil. This interest in Mexican oil resources will also explain some points in American diplomacy toward Mexico.

Economic Conference Favored

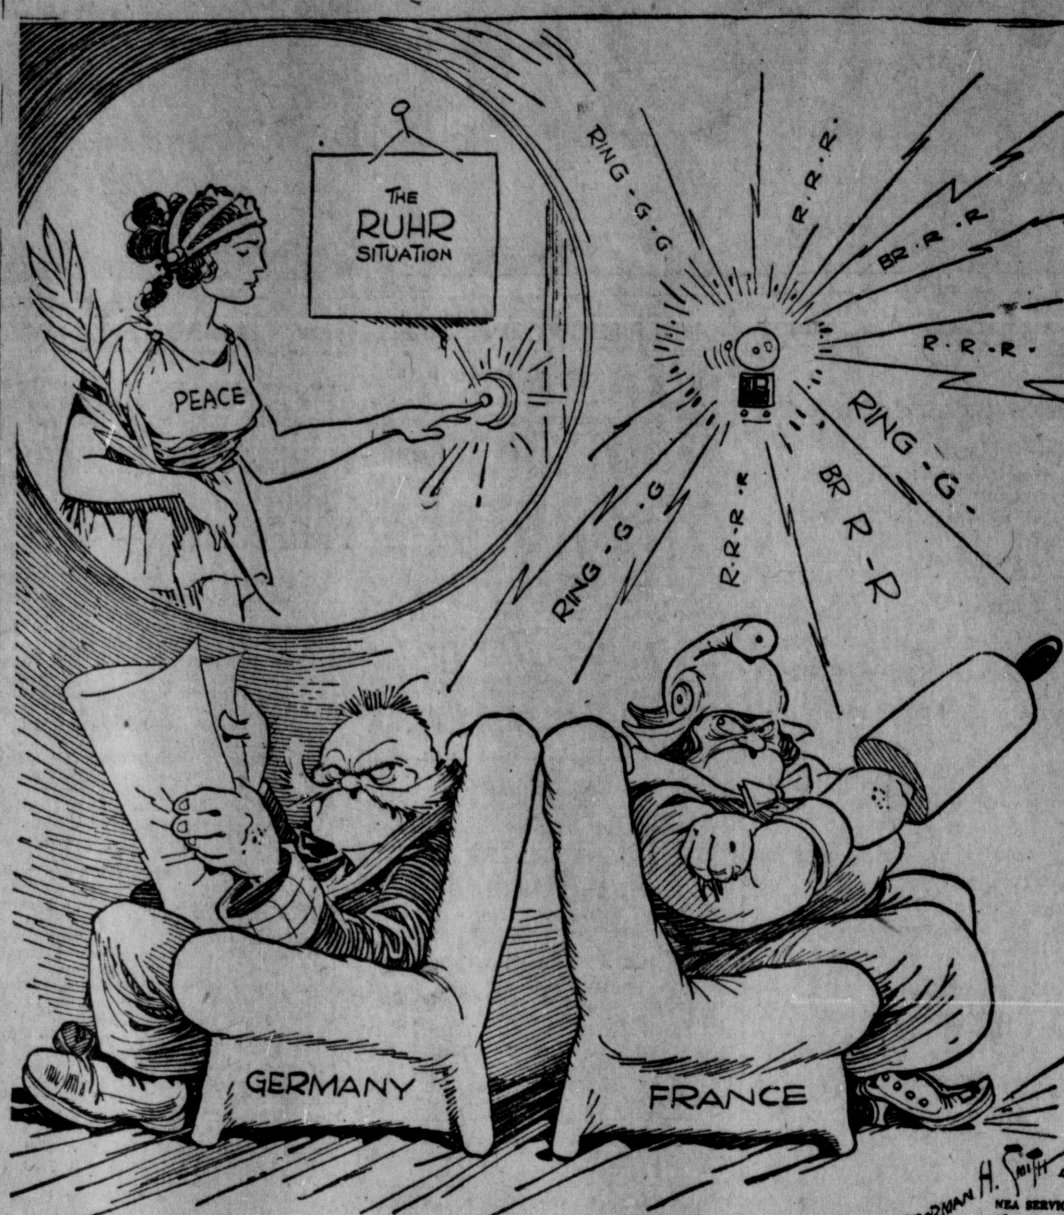

Pasadena Star-News.

A world conference, to cope with the world's economic problems, is advocated by the American delegation attending the International Chamber of Commerce meeting in Rome. It has been a moot question for some time, with American statesmen and publicists, as to whether or not real benefit could be derived from the assembling of an international conference to grapple with the economic difficulties which are especially acute in the Old World.

If it were possible to hold such a conference down to consideration of economic subjects alone, without diverging into political dissensions, such a meeting might be fruitful. But in Europe economics and politics are so closely blended that it is almost impossible to divorce them. This country, of course, has no intention of becoming involved in the political broils of Europe. Hence, the hesitancy about summoning an international economic conference.

Should a world meeting be assembled at Washington, with the United States exerting its influence to keep the conference clear of politics and to focus attention and effort upon clarifying the economic situation throughout the world and finding a formula for economic ill, vast good might be accomplished.

An Important Work

A large proportion of New York children, as proved by the recent health exhibit held in that city, had never seen a cow. Many of them had never tasted milk. Fresh vegetables were practically unknown to them. They were far more familiar with delicatessen food, and peas and carrots were just so many damp objects that came in cans. Eggs were told storage affairs that tasted better if they were more than a week old. All the delightful paraphernalia of the farm child—cows and chickens, fruit trees and fresh vegetables, honey from the bees and milk warm from the cow each night were only fairy tales to them. Food was something that one bought hurriedly at the corner grocery store and often served cold on the table. Of its intimate relationship to health and strength and happiness they had not the dimmest idea.

This condition is not confined to New York children. Our American children, for all that we pride ourselves upon our progress and achievements, are notoriously behind hand in the health scale of the nations.

According to statistics issued by the American Child Health Association, of which Herbert Hoover is president, thirty per cent of our merican school children are under weight—a condition signifying undernourishment. Nor are all of them children of the poor. It is as easy for a little pampered aristocrat who refuses to eat his oatmeal to suffer from malnutrition as it is for his little tenement brother.

Country children neglect health rules even more frequently than city children, according to the Department of Labor statistics. The percentage of under nourished school children in the rural districts is higher than in the cities. Being surrounded with fresh vegetables and milk and eggs doesn't mean that one eats them.

When three million of our school children are in need of medical attention it is time that parents, teachers and health workers awake to their responsibilities. The future of any nation depends upon its children. When their health is threatened the whole wealth, prosperity and happiness of America is threatened too.

In placing child health work on a permanent and economic basis Mr. Hoover's organization is doing work even more important to the nation than the building of battleships or the passage of new laws.

THE LAND OF THOUGHT

I dwell in a beautiful land
Where the sky is always blue,
Where blossom and leaf never fade,
And the friends I make are true.

I wave my hand, and, lo, behold!
Most enchanting scenes are wrought,
For I am king of this fair land,
The beautiful Land of Thought.

In great big ships I spear my sails
Over any sea to roam,
But winds that mean the most to me
Are the ones that bear me home.

Nectar I drink from every cup
That kind Nature offers me,
And ply my skill at all the arts
With highest proficiency.

Should storms ever threaten this land,
Sunshine would put them to flight,
For here even darkness reveals
Only the glories of night.

I have banished fear from this realm
As an outlaw worse than naught,
That I may rule my kingdom well,
My wonderful Land of Thought.

WATCH YOUR HIP
There's a hip-out-of-joint epidemic, so you'd better watch your hip.

That is, there's an epidemic of what has happened to William L. Deimling, district manager of the Edison company, and Howard B. Woodrough, Costa Mesa farmer and candidate for the school board, is basis enough to make an epidemic.

It seems that a few days ago Deimling went down into his cellar to rout out the family cat. He ran the cat out, but—

Just like that!

His hip was out of joint!

Woodrough was out in his chicken yard gathering eggs. He had a large pail filled with the juicy fruit and was leaving the hen house. He turned to latch the door, and—

Just like that!

His hip was out of joint!

Not satisfied with doing things by halves, Woodrough took a second whiff at getting his hip out of joint. A few days after the happening at the hen house door, he got out of bed. He started to walk across the room, when—

Just like that!

His hip was out of joint, again.

This is rather a disjointed tale, to be sure.

HE SAVED FLIP.

Horse trading, with its many strange stories of how the price was fixed, has nothing on the buying of dairy cattle according to

E. G. Stinson, chairman of the dairy department of the Orange county farm bureau.

"One of the finest sports I ever have met," declared Stinson, "was a Spaniard who was in a hurry to get rid of 25 head of dairy cattle."

"We had haggled over the price for a long time. Apparently we never were coming to terms. There was a difference of $1 a head over which neither of us would compromise."

"My Spanish friend got excited. He drew a silver dollar from his pocket."

"You savvy flip," he cried.

"Yes, I savvy flip," I replied.

"He tossed the coin into the air, and yelled 'You call 'em, you call 'em.'"

"Tails," I called, and 'tails' it was."

"Yes, you savvy flip," conceded the Spaniard. "Now we flip for the $15."

"He threw the coin with all the strength of his arm far into the sky. It landed fifty feet away from us."

"You call 'em," he cried again, and again I called 'tails'."

The Spaniard reached the place where the coin fell, and I saw him stoop to read it. When I reached his side, he was cussing in the purest Castilian.

"You win," he said. Then he quieted down. Never another word about the coin. We settled the cattle deal, and I found I had made somewhere around $400 by 'savvy-ing flip'."

In Florida

The United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, which is making a topographic atlas of the entire United States, is able to furnish a very satisfactory physical picture of Florida, although it has mapped in detail only a part of this interesting state.

It is true that Florida is low, the highest determined point in it—Iron mountain, in Polk county—being only 325 feet above sea level, yet its surface shows considerable diversity. The southern part of the peninsula, known as the Everglades, comprising an area about 150 miles long and over 100 miles in average width, lies in general less than 50 feet above sea level. Much of this area is an almost impassable morass, and was once supposed to be below sea level. Lake Okechobee, a shallow body of fresh water at the north end of the Everglades, covers 730 square miles, and its surface is less than 20 feet above sea level. Narrow strips of lowland inclose the Everglades along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.
